Adopt Budget Plan To Cut Taxes

ASK NEEDS IN COUNTY BUREAUS

Supervisors While Sitting As Equalization Board May Shave Expenses

DIRECT TAXATION IN BUILDING DUE TO GO

Horticultural and Other Bureaus, However, May Ask Big Amounts

With a record of approximately $8,000,000 spent by the county for the fiscal year of 1923-24, the board of supervisors, it was announced today, will meet Monday as a board of equalization and for consideration of a budget for the 1924-25 year that may reduce taxes.

For the first time in the history of the county, executives have been requested to submit estimates of funds that will be needed to operate their departments for the year.

From these estimates, the supervisors, while sitting as a board of equalization, will attempt to work out for adoption later a budget that will effect a considerable saving in the expense bills for the coming year and at the same time effect a reduction in the tax rate.

According to discussions that have developed during the past few weeks, it will be the supervisors' policy this year to cut out some of the building operations that have been done the past three years by direct taxation.

May Cut Improvements

During those years, it was said, an annual average of approximately $300,000 has been spent in the construction program. The new hall of records, completed, and the new county jail, under construction, are examples of improvements made by direct taxation. Road improvements also have been extensive.

Reports say that the governing body has about decided to discontinue these programs for two or three years in order to cut taxes.

On the other hand, it was shown, the demands of some of the county departments will be far in excess of the costs of the past year. It was said the horticultural and health departments have prepared tentative estimates that indicate proposed expenditures ten and fifteen times the sums that was available three years ago. Increases have also been made, it was said, in the demands of other departments. Thus the board of supervisors it was expected would be confronted with increased demands for money when it considered plans for a reduction of taxes.

Not To Raise Valuation

Assessed valuations, according to James Sleeper, county assessor, will not be materially raised this year, except, possibly, in certain instances, where advances are warranted.

The board will sit as an equalizing body until July 21. Property owners who believe their assessed valuations are too high will have the privilege of talking the situation over with the board. The supervisors, they said, solicited pre-emption by property owners of any complaints they may have.

In the past, it has been the custom for the supervisors to arrive at some conclusion as to the amount of money that would be re-

Dry Squad In Island Raid Arrests 7 Men

George Contreras, county prohibition agent, headed the posse of fifteen officers.

A large quantity of liquor was seized.

CONDITION OF COOLIDGE, JR. IS SERIOUS

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Calvin Coolidge Jr., son of President Coolidge, who is seriously ill with septic poisoning, was moved from the White House to the Walter Reed army hospital late today. Calvin was removed to the hospital in order to secure adequate facilities in case an operation is decided on. Mrs. Coolidge accompanied him.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Calvin Coolidge Jr.'s condition did not improve during the night and he remains critically ill, it was learned at the White House today.

The younger son of the President has four doctors in attendance. They are taking everything on the boy's vital to throw off the blood poisoning which has penetrated his system.

President Coolidge went to his desk as usual to keep his mind occupied but made no engagements.

By order of the President no formal bulletins on his son's condition were issued by physicians, but it was understood today that the boy's serious condition changed little during the night. It is believed the crisis will be reached today.

Major Coupal, White House physician, and Dr. Joe T. Boone, medical officer of the Mayflower, and a nurse, were on duty at the bedside all night. There were signs of activity all through the early hours of the morning and on several occasions Mrs. Coolidge was seen walking about restlessly.

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Decision as to whether grand jury indictment of Charles W. Doris, Long Beach business man accused of shooting his wife and Henry D. Meyer, former business associate, will be asked was to be made some time today at a conference between District Attorney Keyes and Deputy District Attorney Dennison.

New evidence in the case was discovered yesterday, according to Long Beach investigators. A file, thought possibly to have been used to remove the number of one of the revolvers used in the shooting, was located in Doris' apartment house. It will be examined thoroughly, police said.

FAMOUS ARTIST IN LAW TOILS AS ROBBER

(By United Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—James Montgomery Flagg, illustrative artist and author, is in Los Angeles today at the end of a transcontinental motor honeymoon.

Flagg, who has been in Kansas where, after being mistaken for a robber and forger and arrested, he was able to secure his release only when he produced letters signed by William S. Hart, screen actor. Mrs. Flagg, who was Miss Dorothy Wademan, famous model, before her marriage in New York on May 10, took the opportunity to tell her husband of the greater fame prominence in motion pictures would have brought, had he elected to follow that path instead of art.

The Kansas sheriff, the newly-weeds state, was a truculent individual who never had heard of Flagg, or of Irvin S. Cobb, whose name the author advanced as reference. But when Flagg brought out a letter from the "Movie's Two Gun Man," the menacing jail doors ceased to threaten.

BRITISH IN INDIA CHEER U. S. AIRMEN

(By United Press Leased Wire)

CALCUTTA, July 5.—The United States army air squadron, flying round the world, hopped from Multan to Karachi yesterday, winging their way through violent storms.

The American airplanes reached Karachi at 1:10 a. m. after leaving Multan at 6:18 a. m. They were given a great welcome by the British air forces.

THREE IN JAIL AS ROBBERY SUSPECTS

(By United Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Three asserted highwaymen were arrested early today at the North Broadway bridge, charged with having held up and robbed Myron G. Stevens, of this city, and Miss Marian Stevens, nurse in the Pasadena hospital.

The men were trapped by deputy sheriffs acting on information from Pasadena police that they were headed for Los Angeles in a coupe. They gave names of Frank Kent, B. M. Seawright and William Jones. Officers say they recovered a woman's watch and $12 in cash from the trio.

2 BOYS SAVED FROM SURF AT PALISADES

Two boys, Edward Flash, 6 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Flash of Brea, and Nicholas Horton, 7 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Horton of Brea, were pulled from a deep hole into which they fell yesterday at the Palisades by Antor Deraga, captain of the Newport Beach life saving crew. Young Horton stepped into the hole in the morning and the Flash boy waded into the same hole in the afternoon.

Coolidge Now 2 To 1 Bet Favorite

NEW YORK, July 5.—Odds on President Coolidge to be re-elected jumped from 3 to 5 to 2 to 1 in Wall Street.

A substantial sum of money is available at these odds, J. S. Fried and Company reported.

The seemingly unbreakable deadlock in the Democratic national convention put Wall Street bettors in a quandary as far as Governor Smith and W. G. McAdoo are concerned, and wagers generally went to the dark horses at shorter odds.

INDUSTRY LAND COMPANY FUND IS BOOSTED

With a number of the original subscribers doubling their subscriptions and new subscriptions being made, the pledged amount for the Santa Ana Industrial Land company today stood at a little more than $30,000, a 100 per cent increase in the week, J. S. Smart, one of the men active in promotion of the company, announced today.

The board in the total was the result of the organization of a club of ten individuals and firms who subscribed $2000 each, Smart said.

It is the desire of the company to acquire at least forty acres, Smart said. "The funds could be raised by a reasonable amount of cooperation on the part of those residents interested in the project of procuring a tract to hold for subdivision into industrial sites."

"If the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the luncheon clubs and other organizations will interest themselves in this work the coming week, the remainder needed can easily be raised."

"About thirty subscriptions of $500 each are needed. I would impress upon residents the fact that it is not the intention of the company to give sites free—it is proposed to buy land and resell to industrialists at cost plus carrying charges. All money invested will be returned, dollar for dollar. The subscriber will have the additional satisfaction of knowing that he has assisted in boosting the city if it develops that holding of the land is a means of locating factories here, and I have no doubt on this score."

"I hope there will be many volunteer subscriptions, thus saving the committee the trouble of making a personal call on those who are believed sufficiently interested to invest."

He stated that W. H. Miller, industrial secretary of the chamber of commerce, and A. N. Zernan, chairman of the company organization committee, could give details of the plan of operation.

RALSTON LOOMING AS NOMINEE AS LEADERS SEEK DEADLOCK END

Tom Taggart Takes Lead In Bringing About Conference; Religious Bitterness Among Delegates Increases As 77 Ballots Taken In Convention

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 5.—Nomination of a compromise candidate on Monday is now the program of the Democratic national convention.

After hours of fruitless balloting today, followed by conferences among leaders, the convention, at 3:40 p. m. this afternoon adopted a resolution calling upon the various candidates and their representatives to confer with Chairman Walsh and Cordell Hull, chairman of the National committee, upon a program of procedure and the selection of a man who can be nominated.

It was significant that the man representing this resolution was Tom Taggart, of Indiana, campaign manager of Senator Samuel Ralston, whose name was withdrawn from the convention yesterday in the interests of harmony, at Ralston's request.

Ralston was the first of the favorite sons to step out of the way and there were strong possibilities of Ralston emerging from the conferences which will be held tonight and tomorrow as the compromise candidate.

Ohio offered, early today, to cast its 48 votes for Senator Sam Ralston. Taggart, however, declined. Ralston is now out of the convention, having withdrawn yesterday, and if he is to be nominated now the party must draft him.

The convention had completed seventy-seven ballots without a result when it adjourned this afternoon.

BORAH SEES DEMOCRATIC SESSION AS ONLY 'SO-CALLED' CONVENTION

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the senate committee to keep tab on campaign expenditures and contributions this year, today sent the following wire to Timothy T. Ansberry, alternate-at-large at the New York convention, opposed to McAdoo, in reply to Ansberry's request that his committee investigate expenditures in the election of delegates:

STAGE DRIVER HELD AS CAR RUNS AMUCK

VENTURA, July 5.—Buddy Hughes, Los Angeles stage driver, was in jail here today while officers investigated a traffic accident in which twenty persons, spectators at a local Fourth of July parade, were injured.

The big stage driven by Hughes coasted down Main street last yesterday and ran headlong into the crowd. Fourteen of the injured had to be treated at a hospital, while the others were removed to their homes.

The angered spectators crowded around the stage and threatened Hughes with lynching, but police broke through the crowd and saved him. He declared the brakes on his stage would not hold and he could not bring it under control.

Arrest Two In Alleged Plot To Kidnap Son of Illinois Senator

CHICAGO, July 5.—Details of a plot to extort $50,000 from United States Senator Medill McCormick under threats of kidnaping his eight year old son, John, were being uncovered by Chicago postal inspectors and Willago county authorities today as they questioned two men arrested near Rockford, Ill.

George and Clarence Peek, farm employees, were arrested when they came for a decoy package, "planted" near the McCormick summer home at Byron, Ill. in answer to a threatening letter received earlier in the week.

Both suspects denied knowledge of the plot, saying they were "just curious to see what was in the package."

"LEAVE IT TO GERRY" AT YOST TOMORROW

The public likes to be thrilled, also it likes to laugh and cry with the people in a screen story—that's why "Leave It to Gerry," which will be shown at the Yost theater tomorrow, is bound to meet with popular approval. For it has thrills, human interest, romance and excitement. The heroine is as full of pep as a schoolgirl and works every minute. The cast is superb; the settings, immense, and the story one that leaves little to be desired in the way of entertainment and sheer satisfaction.

The people are always responsive to this sort of picture; they know that into it has gone all the effort and experience of many people who are old at the picture business and they appreciate the results, which are always adequate. In short, "Leave It to Gerry" is not an experiment, but a sure-fire picture with a world of interest for people of all ages, classes and conditions of servitude.

MARIE PREVOST, MONTE BLUE IN TEMPLE FILM
 Are you married? Do you want to be married? Or are you free and foot-loose? In any event, you cannot afford to miss "How to Educate a Wife," which is now showing at the Temple theater. It presents a novel angle of the eternal question, "To be—or not to be married!"

Knowing that "How to Educate a Wife" had been written by the noted love psychologist, Elinor Glyn, of world fame, we anticipated a picture of thrilling action and romantic charm. The whole performance, from beginning to end, is so finely done and the plot so realistically human and appealing, that we felt we personally were experiencing the vicissitudes and joys of the Todds, as portrayed by Marie Prevost and Monte Blue.

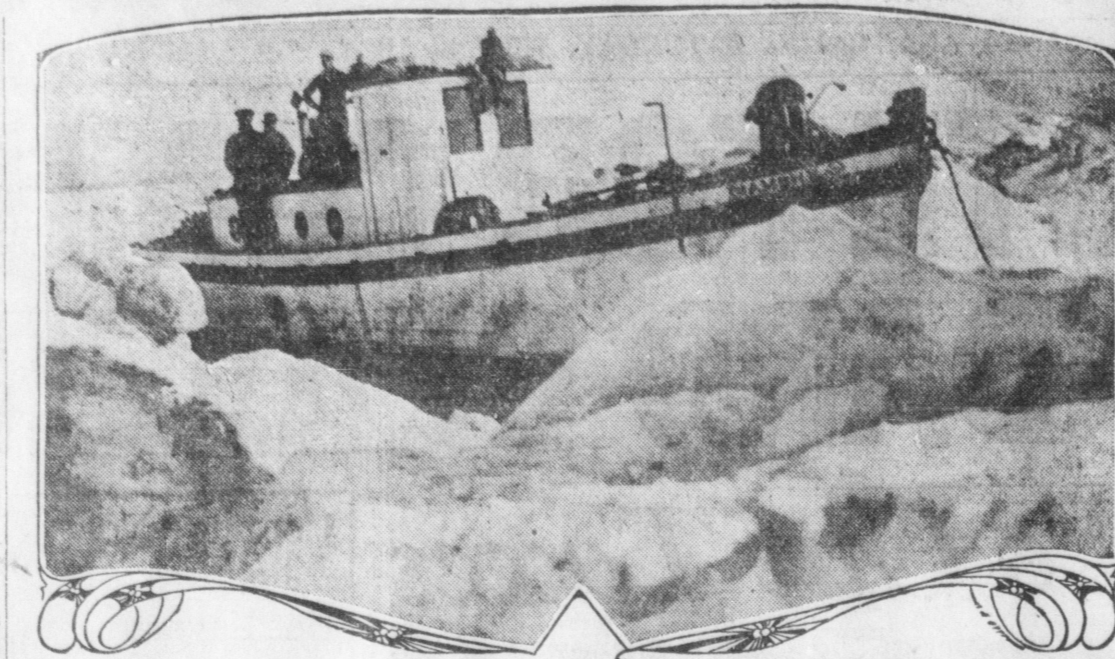

In the supporting cast, the names of Claude Gillingwater, as the wealthy client, Vera Lewis, Betty Francisco, Creighton Hale, Edward Earle and Nellie Bly Baker are worthy of mention.

"SCARAMOUCHE" RETURNS TO WALKER'S

Manager Walker of Walker's theater today announced a return of "Scaramouche" for two days beginning Monday.

"Scaramouche," one of the outstanding pictures of 1924, is considered one of the really big screen attractions of all time. Rex Ingram directed and Ramon Novarro, Alice Terry and Lewis Stone, have the featured roles.

This will be the first time the picture has shown at popular prices.

A scene from "Captain Kleinschmidt's Adventures in the Far North," special feature to be shown at the Yost theater tomorrow.

WALKER'S TONIGHT.

When one finds a combination of thrills, humor and romance in one motion picture it is bound to offer an hour of sure-fire entertainment. Every one of these factors abound in Richard Talmadge's latest production "On Time" which closes tonight at Walker's theater.

The thrills are furnished abundantly by the star who hurls himself through the air with reckless abandon where a slight misstep would mean almost certain death. He starts with a mad dash in an automobile during which a dozen smash-ups are narrowly escaped. Then, one of the most daring stunts is a leap from the top of a telegraph pole to the roof of an adjoining building seven stories from the ground. Scarcely a reel unwinds without Richard Talmadge performing some hair-raising, spine-chilling stunt.

The laughs are present in large and varied assortment through the splendid comedy work of Tom Wilson, as Casanova Clay, the negro valet to the hero, who has the proclivity for playing dice when his master needs him most. His combat with the mysterious dwarf in the insane doctor's house of mystery is a positive scream.

"SIXTH COMMANDMENT" AT WEST END.

A picture that entertains—that has no end of entertaining qualities, indeed, but which at the same time teaches a highly moral lesson—without preaching, is "The Sixth Commandment," which had its first local showing at the West End theater yesterday.

The commandment which furnishes the title reads, as everybody should know, "Thou shalt not kill." Though there is a shooting affair, the picture brings out impressively the fact that one may kill without actually taking life—that to kill love or hope or ambition may have almost as disastrous effect as the commission of murder itself.

"The Sixth Commandment" is a powerful pictorial document—all the more so from the fact that it isn't a sermon but a logical, connected story of human life. An excellent cast, containing such actors as William Faversham, John Bohn, J. Neil Hamilton, Kathryn Martyn, and other popular favorites, is in the picture.

HAT STORE MEN CONVICTED AT THIRD TRIAL

O. C. Hardebeck and Glenn B. Churchill, trustees accused of obtaining money under false pretenses in the sale of stock in a chain of millinery stores, today were held in county jail here pending pronouncement of sentence, following their conviction late Thursday by a jury in superior court.

Concluding the third trial of the pair, the jury at 10:20 p. m., returned a verdict of guilty, after deliberating for approximately six hours. They will be sentenced by Judge R. Y. Williams Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. The offense is punishable by a jail sentence of one to fourteen years.

Evidence at the three trials indicated that the two men had sold stock in their enterprise to the amount of $117,000 and that bankruptcy proceedings developed that they could account for only $25,000 of the sum, that being represented by stock in various stores, one of which was located at Anaheim.

The complaint was based on the ground that in making sales they represented that each had invested $50,000. It was said that in the bankruptcy proceedings each admitted that they had invested only $50 each at first, Hardebeck later acquiring eight shares and Churchill eight. The par value was $50 per share.

HELD IN FIREWORKS CASE
 Five youths, ranging in age from 17 to 20, were arrested yesterday on charges of shooting fireworks within the city limits. According to police reports, the youths were motoring up and down the streets throwing firecrackers under cars and at pedestrians. They were expected to appear late today before City Recorder W. F. Heathman.

TWO-DAY RAIN FALLS AT 'Y' CAMP SITE

Santa Ana boys at the Y. M. C. A. camp, in the San Bernardino mountains, had the unusual experience of seeing a two-day rainfall this week, according to word brought here today by George Chessum, county "Y" secretary.

Chessum stated that all the boys were in excellent health and seemed to be enjoying the camp. He stated that although the rain had never been such a downpour during the summer months.

There are forty-two boys from Santa Ana at the camp, in charge of James A. McDill, boys' department leader.

Several boys have already signed up for the five week's course in gymnasium work and swimming, according to Ralph C. Smedley, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, who stated today that interest in the course was growing daily. Only thirty boys will be taken for the present course, the first meeting of which will be held at 1 p. m. tomorrow. R. R. Russick, physical director, will have charge of the classes.

Beginning Tuesday, July 15, the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. will give a series of programs over KFAW, The Register's broadcasting station, according to an announcement made today. The first program will include a health talk by R. R. Russick, physical director of the "Y."

Operated On For Appendicitis*FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS TO BE ANNOUNCED LATER

Many times, no doubt, you have seen the above headline in your newspaper. Very often it has told of some friend suddenly stricken with dread appendicitis. The newspapers, however, neglect to state that appendicitis is usually preceded by stomach trouble. They don't tell you that the afflicted person suffered frequent attacks of heartburn long before he went to the hospital.

While heartburn is not always a sign of an inflamed appendix, it is always a warning, that something is wrong. In many cases it results from indigestion, which is one of the predisposing causes of appendicitis.

If you suffer from a burning, gnawing sensation in the stomach, excessive gas, sour stomach, nausea or other distress after eating, go at once and obtain a bottle of Smith Bros' M. A. "MIAMI" BEGINS RUN AT YOST MONDAY
 Betty Compson who has the leading role in "Miami," the new Alan Crosland society picture which comes to the Yost theater Monday is admitted to be one of the most talented as well as the most appealing of feminine stars.

She was born in Salt Lake City and appeared in vaudeville before entering moving pictures. She began her screen career in Christie comedies and played in seventy-eight of them before getting a part in a feature. Her performance in "The Miracle Man," stamped her as one of the foremost actresses on the screen.

In "Miami," Miss Compson has a role different from any of her recent characterizations. She is seen as a wealthy ultra-modern society girl who is the "life of the party" at the famous winter resort and who almost loses the man she loves through her daring escapades. Her characterization is thoroughly realistic and is said to be one of the best things she has ever done.

Miss Compson's supporting cast includes Benjamin F. Finney Jr., Hedda Hopper, Lucy Fox, J. Barney Sherry and Lawford Davidson.

Captain Kleinschmidt's "Adventures in the Far North," which will be an added attraction at the Yost theater tomorrow, is one of the most remarkable films ever brought down from the Arctic. Prizma color pictures of glaciers, films of wild animals, a walrus hunting, of whaling, of bear hunting, of capturing young seals, driving thousands upon thousands of birds of the frozen sea into the air, makes this long film seem like a subject of a few minutes' duration.

Some of the fascinating slow motion pictures of diving seals, ever foxes fighting for food are part of the remarkable pictorial diary which the famous explorer has brought to Broadway.

Mrs. Kleinschmidt, who accompanied the captain on the trip of the good ship, Silver Screen, plays an important role in the adventures, showing remarkable intrepidity and marksmanship.

"Vamps are, of course, divided into types just as people are, and the type that the character Marilyn, in 'Wandering Husbands,' belongs to, is, in my estimation, the most successful of them all—according to their own standards. It is just such little, dumb, pretty, laughing, wholly irresponsible girls that attract married men, who, wearied of the narrow confines of a conventional state of marriage, want to steal away and dance in forbidden paths for a time."

AVERS NEWS STORY, IN COURT, IS TRUE

Assertions the Fullerton News
published recently that George Annis, police officer of Fullerton, ran away instead of coming to the assistance of Jack Diet, another officer, when the latter

lar, according to an answer filed in superior court here today by the News to the $20,000 damage suit instituted by Annis.
In its answer the News denies that publication of the story was done with a spirit of malice or with intent to injure the officer.
The answer reproduces an article from the News in which it was asserted that Annis went to the home of Carriosa after the assault episode and "told him not to say anything more about the affair."

Is Held When He Seeks Permit to Visit Jailed Pal

When Thomas Pedrini, 25, a Los Angeles painter, called at the sheriff's office late Thursday to obtain permission to visit Charles Alessi, a Los Angeles fruit dealer who was placed in jail here on a charge of burglary, Constable Jesse Elliott presented the visitor with a slip of paper—but it was not a visiting permit. It was a warrant for his arrest.

Pedrini is wanted, according to Elliott, as an accomplice of Alessi, si, who has been accused of stealing a quantity of paint from George A. Teaney of Costa Mesa.
Today the two friends were visiting each other in a "tank" at the county jail, pending the arrival

S. A. TOT DEATH RATE LOWERED
IN 1923

Santa Ana, which in 1922 had next to the highest infant mortality rate among twenty-five California cities reporting, had a far better record in 1923, its rate being lower than six other cities, according to statistics published today by the American Child Health association. In 1922 eighty-nine babies of 1000 born in Santa Ana died within their first year, according to the compilation, while eighty infants succumbed in 1923.

Cities with higher rates in 1923
than Santa Ana were Bakersfield, Eureka, Fresno, Riverside, San Bernardino and Santa Monica.
The same report showed that babies in Santa Cruz have a better chance for life than the babies of any other city in the birth registration area of the United States.
Santa Cruz's rate for 1923 is 26.

State Rate Low
Not only Santa Cruz but the entire state of California has a very low infant mortality rate, Los Angeles with a record of 72 ranks among the ten largest cities of the country, while Pasadena with 37 stands first among cities of 50,000 to 100,000 population. The state itself, having a rate of 66, holds fourth place among the thirty states and the District of Columbia which comprise the birth registration area. The report issued by the association with offices in New York, covers this area and includes cities of more than 10,000 population.

The statistics holding better records than California are Washington, 51; Oregon, 53; and Minnesota, 62. As in 1922, the Pacific coast states again lead all sections of the nation. The sectional rate for Washington, Oregon and California is 57, the lowest rate for any section within the birth registration area.

Comparative Record
Twenty-five cities listed in the California statistical tables, with their comparative rates for 1922
and 1923, are as follows:

Mr. Thad Harvey is a very ver-of some note and a promising ten-

Both Mr. and Mrs. Harvey are charming young people, they are very much in love with Laguna Beach, and have, during their two day stay, acquired a skin-deep sunburn that it will take weeks of careful and conscientious nursing to remove.

Among the people of note in the world of music and art which we so often find at Laguna, Mrs.
Charles Bowers was discovered,
having a glorious time swimming and taking swims at the side of the Gloriana Apartments. Mrs. Bowers is better known as Ruth C.
Bowers, of 446 So. Grandview avenue, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Bowers is now producing operatic singing programs in and around Los Angeles. Last year speech. Mr. Clagstone is a recent arrival from Washington, D. C., where he has been in conference with other officials of the U. S.

Chamber of Commerce.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Clagstone are very enthusiastic about Laguna Beach and have made it the ideal place to come for a summer vacation. Mrs. Clagstone declared that Laguna Beach restaurants have been far above the average beach restaurants in the meals
they serve and that she can heartily recommend all of them for good cooking.

Mr. V. King of Fullerton has taken the Kill Kare cottage for the month of July.

Mrs. Cyril McKillican of Los Angeles is spending two weeks at the Arch Beach Tavern. Mrs. Mc-Killican is spending most of her time sketching. She recently returned from a trip to Europe where she spent some time and she has some lovely work made in England, France and Spain. Mrs.
McKillican is very enthusiastic about Laguna Beach and finds the warm color of the cliffs and ocean
a most pleasing subject for her talent.

Mr. Charles H. Lantz and son
Chapman Lantz spent the week end at the Arch Beach Tavern.
Mr. Lantz is the owner of the Arch Beach Tavern, and is a well-known bond man of Los Angeles.

Miss Kathryn McGorrey of Los Angeles is at the Gloriana Apartments where she will spend the summer. Miss McGorrey is very enthusiastic about swimming and she finds the coves in and around Arch Beach ideal for a midday swim.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Case of Craig Country Club are visitors at the Overtide for a few weeks. Mrs.
Case is accompanied by Miss Effie
Bell of Hollywood and Mrs. Winthrop Piers and children of Riverside. Miss Buell is a sister of Mrs. Case and Mrs. Winthrop is a daughter of Mrs. Case.

Mr. T. J. Sayles was struck and injured while walking down the hill toward town, when a car driven by Mr. Hugo B. Lindberg skidded in the sand at the side of the road and struck Mr. Sayles.

Mr. Sayles was taken to his home on the Cliffs and given medical attention by Dr. Day. The extent of Mr. Sayles' injuries are not serious, but he received some very bad bruises on his arms and legs.

The condition of the road to the Cliffs on which this accident occurred is very bad, as it has not been cut to sufficient width to permit pedestrians to walk up or down the hill with safety. When traffic is heavy walking is very dangerous. It is hoped that the county will take steps to put this road in a safe condition.

Caused by Flames

Damage estimated at $1500 was done by fire which destroyed
three rooms of the seven-room residence of Postmaster William
O. Hart on North Main street,
Orange, at a late hour last night,
according to a report on file
at the Orange fire department headquarters.

Three rooms, the dining room,
the front bedroom and the kitchen, were burned, including a piano, a phonograph and an upholstered furniture suite. Fire

the belief that a piece of punk left by children on a davenport after fireworks had been shot off caused the fire.

The fire was held to the lower floor.

GULLIBLE FLOCK TO MAD STONE QUACKS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 2.—
The "mad stone," supposed to have passed out when the last witch was burned, has reappeared in Illinois. Belief in it has become so prevalent and its use so widespread that the state department of public health has launched an educational campaign against it.

A "mad stone" is a pebble, supposed by the simple minded to possess power to cure hydrophobia or rabies. Numbers of these stones have appeared in different parts of the state following an epidemic of rabies among dogs and other animals. Usually they are in the hands of some convincing individual who is willing to give "mad stone treatments" for a suitable fee.

These treatments are often accompanied by mysterious rites and Indian medicine men. The "mad stone" is placed against the wound made by the "mad" dog's teeth. If it sticks to the wound, the "madness" is said by the stone's owner to have been transmitted from the animal to the person, and further treatments, always at the specified fee, are necessary. When the stone no longer sticks to the wound the patient is "cured."

And Hill & Carden strive as hard to create this feeling as they do to sell Kuppenheimer good clothes. The store personnel is made up of happy folks who think in terms of him rather than self. People who drop in our store at 112 West Fourth Street sense this and in the long run do all their trading here. The benefit of the people who trade with us comes first; our own interests are secondary.

Watch this space for Hill & Carden's daily message.

REPRESENT SEX IN NEW ENTERPRISE

By NEA Service
CHICAGO, July 5.—Three women hold the distinction of being the only broadcast directors of their sex in the United States.

They are:
Eleanor Poehler, who manages station WLAG at Minneapolis.
Miss Judith Waller of station WMAQ, Chicago.

Miss V. A. L. Jones, station KSD, announcers, but out of some 550 St. Louis.

There are many women broadcast stations throughout the country, only three are known to be run entirely by women.

Widely Known
All three, for this reason, have gained wide popularity in the radio world. Mrs. Poehler, for instance, not only manages her station, but is called upon to write special radio articles for newspapers and magazines and to deliver lectures to clubs and classes.

As head of WLAG, she has complete charge of the programs and business arrangements, and she frequently announces her evening concert. She is a widow with one son, an accomplished musician and a soprano of European as well as American training.

Miss Waller is responsible for the operas broadcast through station WMAQ at Chicago by the Chicago Civic Opera Company. She has planned educational programs for WMAQ fans and is known well for her musical concerts.

Well Equipped
Training for this job came to Miss Waller from the field of advertising and office management.

Not only is Miss V. A. L. Jones director of station KSD at St. Louis, but she retains her control over her own advertising concern in that city. She is a musician and a critic, graduate of the University of California. She announces her own programs, besides managing the business end.

All three stations are in Class B, and of the highest grade, officially. Their directors compete good-naturedly among themselves for highest honors in broadcasting. Yet they have never met.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, JULY 5, 1924

PAGES SEVEN TO TWELVE

STATE RENEWAL OF HEADLIGHT WAR BEGINS ON MONDAY

Motorcycle Officers Under Orders to Halt Violators
During Month of July
WILL PATROL HIGHWAY

60 Per Cent of Motorists
Driving Cars With Glary
Lamps Says Captain

Declaring that 40,000 violators were caught in the May campaign, Will H. March, superintendent of the state motor vehicle department, today announced at Sacramento that on Monday he would begin another campaign to rid the highways of California from the menace of glary headlights.

He announced that the campaign would continue through the month of July and "for sometime thereafter, unless persons driving automobiles with dangerous lights get off the highways or have their lights adjusted."

C. K. Harder, chief inspector for the division, recently stated that there are thousands of drivers still on the road who are violating the law. He said a check made several weeks ago indicated that 60 per cent of all drivers had lights that did not comply with regulations.

"When the campaign begins Monday, officers will patrol the highways for a time every evening and stop all vehicles operating with lights that are irregular," H. S. Warner, captain of the state motorcycle officers operating in Orange county, said.

"We will halt the machines on the road, as we did during the previous campaign. Drivers operating their cars with headlights out of adjustment will be given a card ordering them to have their lights adjusted at an official adjusting station and later to report back to the local officers."

FRANKLIN FACTORY ORDERS SHOW GAIN

Assembly work has been resumed by the Franklin Automobile company following the completion of the inventory for which production was temporarily halted a few weeks ago, according to H. A. Shugart, of Shugart and Son, Franklin dealers, here. Franklin officials state that the number of completed cars on hand has been steadily reduced and will be normal by July 1.

"Retail deliveries by dealers are running at the rate of better than 800 a month," said Shugart. "With low stock in dealer's hands, orders at the factory are on the increase. It is understood that production will be increased as rapidly as conditions warrant. Although the company is not advertising for help, men are being taken on as occasion requires. The employment division, on June 21, reported 100 additional men added to the payroll."

New Invention to Save Submarine Disaster Victims

LONDON, July 5.—Loss of life in submarine disasters will be minimized if a submersible life-saving boat just patented by two Hollywood shipwrights comes up to expectations.

The invention takes the form of a covered boat that can be attached to the top deck of a submarine in such a way that the occupants of a submerged submarine can enter the boat, cast it off, and safely reach the surface, according to the inventors.

The men can leave the submarine and enter the lifeboat in a few minutes through the manhole and the connecting tube. One manhole is at the bottom of the lifeboat and the other at the top of the submarine, both manholes. The boat is motor-driven and will rise to the surface from any depth.

FIRST PRIZES CAPTURED BY STUDEBAKER

Two first prizes, one for economy and the other for endurance, were won by standard stock Studebaker cars in the Economy and Endurance Run staged at El Paso by the El Paso Herald, the Bowles Motor company, Studebaker dealer.

"The Studebaker Light-Six, competing against four other well-known makes of cars, covered the 1882-mile route across Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, which included paved roads, desert wastes and rough mountain trails, in the prescribed 12 days, using but 95 gallons of gasoline and six quarts of oil," said the dealer.

"This is an average of 19.8 miles per gallon of gas and 313.55 miles per quart of oil."

"The Special-Six carried away the honors for endurance against a field of other well known cars. The only two points scored against it were those assessed because the driver, who was unfamiliar with all the rules, purposely shut off his motor in a traffic jam. Otherwise, it had a clean score."

Nab Auto Driver When Woman Dies

WORST DRIVING LAID TO L. A. MOTORISTS

Tourists Most Careful On Highways Says Captain of Motorcycle Squad

Los Angeles motorists are the worst drivers that pass through Orange county and they have the least respect for traffic laws and the rights of other motorists, according to statements issued here today by members of the Orange county corps of state motorcycle officers.

"Whenever an automobile is seen in the distance, rushing past all other cars, cutting in, racing one or two other autos, you can nearly always bet that the offending autoist is from Los Angeles," So stated Captain H. S. Warner of the Orange county corps of state motor police.

"It seems that drivers from the big city act more like rube drivers than any we have to contend with," he continued. "At any rate they are the most reckless of all who motor through this district."

"Cars bearing license plates of states other than California seldom cause traffic mix-ups. Motorists from other states usually are the most careful drivers. They seldom speed, they keep their places in lines of congested traffic, they nearly always give plenty of room to autoists who wish to pass and they seldom forget to signal at turns or sudden stops."

Residents of Orange county also were complimented by the state traffic officers.

"The autoists here are really trying to do their part in preventing accidents," Captain Warner asserted.

"It's the Los Angeles drivers that get our 'goats'."

BALLOON TIRES O.K. IN SAND TEST SHOWS

Not long ago, representatives of the Rio Motor Car company decided to test to their own satisfaction the theory that balloon tires were just as serviceable and added just as much to riding and driving comfort when used in sand as they did on boulevards or gravel highways.

According to H. H. Hale of Dale and company, Rio dealer, a test run of 524 miles through the desert and mountains of Arizona was planned as the most strenuous workout that could be given big tires. The route including loose sand, trails through cactus and sagebrush, and rough going in the mountains.

"On this run, the drivers proved conclusively that, far from being a disadvantage in loose sand, balloon tires with their large areas of surface contact were a real advantage," said the agent. "This wide contact area aiding in riding over the sand with sort of snow-shoe effect, just as the low pressure within the tires made it possible to absorb bumps and ruts in the mountains."

"Exceptional gasoline mileage was reported and extremely good time was made on the trip, although at no time was the car driven at excessive speeds. Men in charge of the trip were very much pleased with the conclusions to be drawn, from the test."

EVANGELICAL CAMP MEETINGS TO OPEN

The annual camp meeting and joint conventions of the Woman's Missionary society, Evangelical League of Christian Endeavor and Sunday schools of the California conference of the Evangelical church will be held in Santa Ana, July 10 to 20, the Rev. G. A. Sterle, pastor of Zion's Evangelical church, announced today.

The sessions will be held at the camp grounds in the eucalyptus grove just north of Santiago creek and west of Flower street.

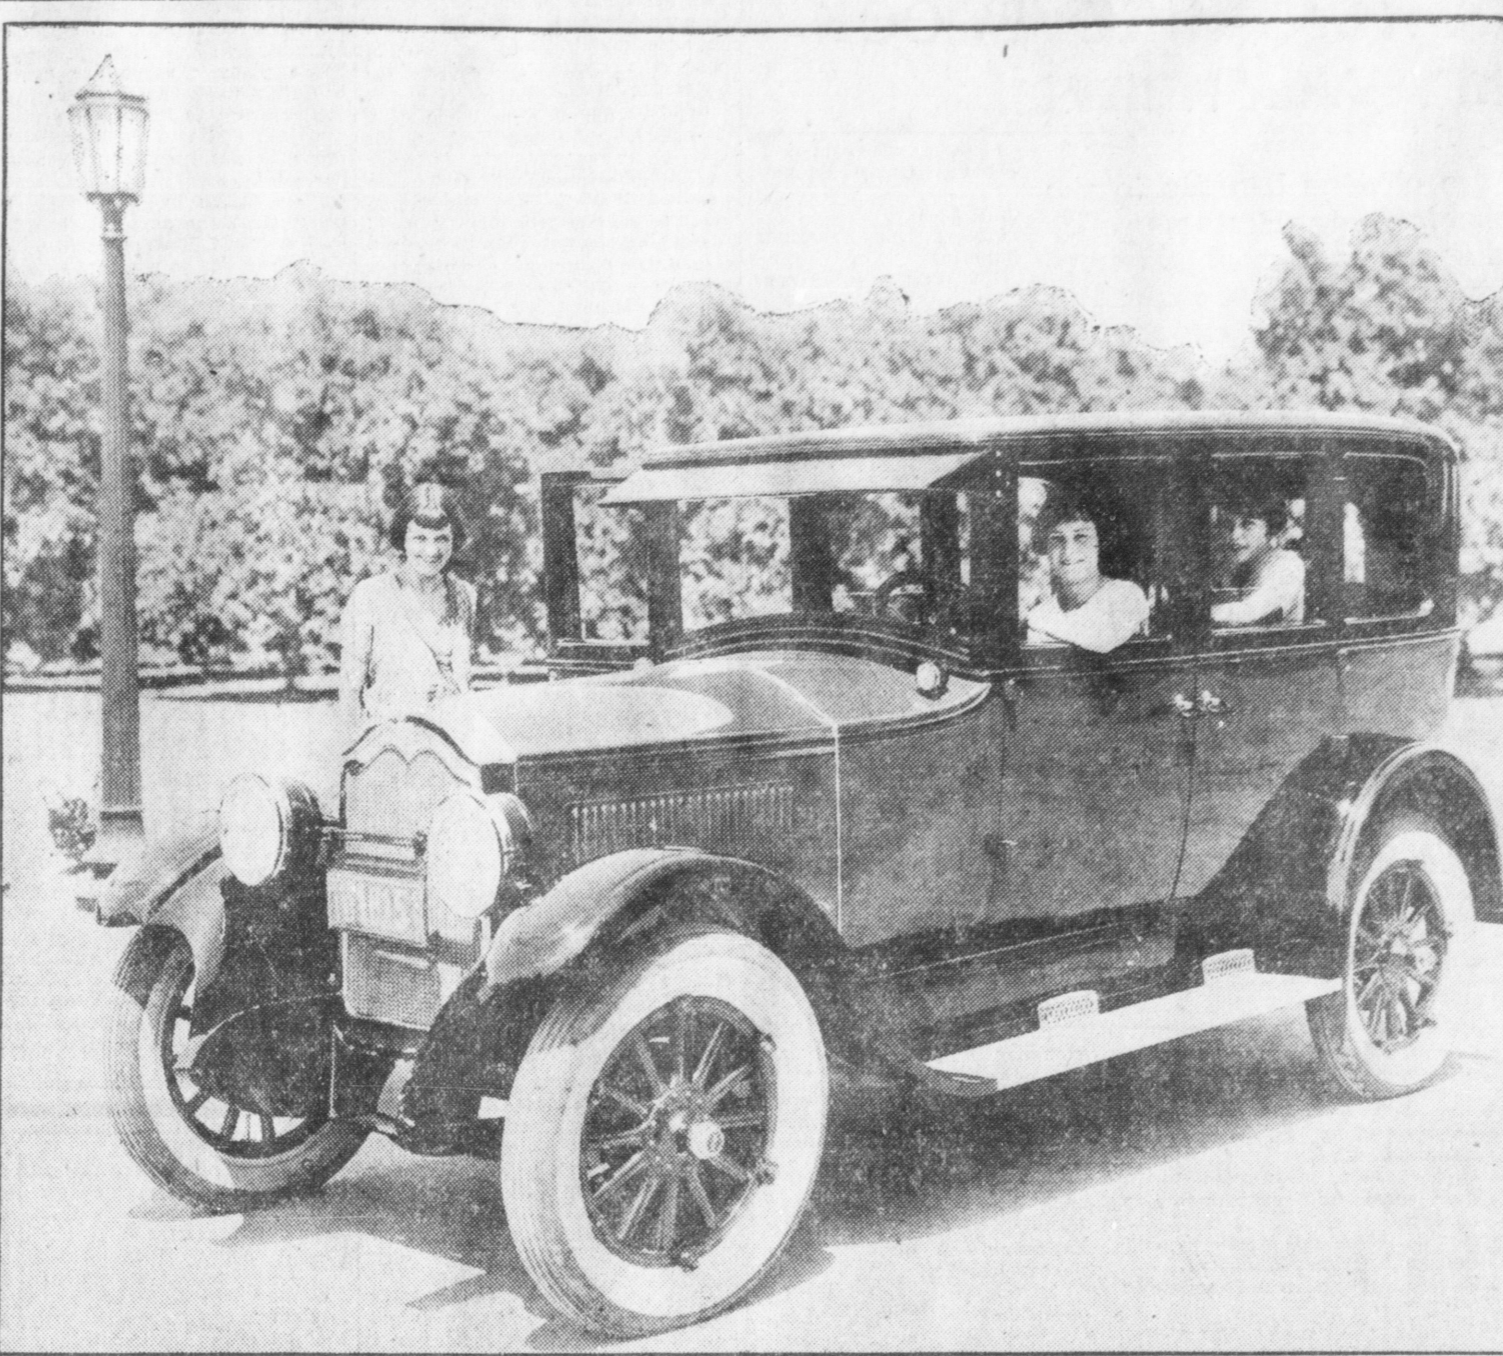

Special speakers for the camp meeting and conventions will include: the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Burch, Freeport, Ill.; the Rev. William E. Grote, Villa Park, Ill.; and Mrs. Charles W. Kinnear, Whittier, Calif.

With delegates coming from each of the three organizations it is expected the attendance will be large.

Opening at 7 p. m., July 10, the camp meeting sessions will continue through to Wednesday noon, July 16. The conventions will begin their program at 6 p. m. of that date.

HERE'S STANDARD SIX SEDAN MODEL OF NEW BUICK LINE

Here is the five passenger sedan of the Standard Six, the new output of the Buick factory, and an added line. Announcement of the new line by the Buick Motor company was one of the surprises of the week on automobile row. It is a lighter machine than the present six and sells here for $1950 as against $2575 for the five passenger sedan of the larger model. At the wheel is Miss Blanche Hill, deputy county clerk, an enthusiastic Buick fan. Standing is Miss Agnes Shambaugh, from the office of the county superintendent of schools. In the rear seat is Miss Anita Jerome, daughter of W. C. Jerome, county auditor, a member of the office force.

ASSERTED WILD RIDE MEN DUE IN COURT

Already facing prosecution in the superior court here on one felony charge, George Wright, young rancher of Orange, today was awaiting preliminary hearing of a second felony charge, which also involved George Smith of Tustin. The hearing is set for Monday at 10 a. m. before Justice J. B. Cox, who expected to return to the bench in his court that day after a short rest.

At a recent appearance before Justice G. W. Ingle at Orange, Wright was held under $1000 bail for trial on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Wright waived his preliminary hearing and stated, the authorities said, that he was guilty.

The charge was the outgrowth of an asserted wild ride taken by Wright, accompanied by Miss Opal Stephenson, Santa Ana girl, from Orange to Santa Ana, with Orange officers in hot pursuit. Wright wrecked his car, it was said, at the corner of Fourth and Mabury streets, this city. Miss Stephenson being thrown out. At a hospital it was found she was suffering with a broken jaw and other wounds. Wright finished the incident in jail.

The second charge, that of attempted robbery, was preferred against Wright and Smith by Y. M. Taisuke, Garden Grove Japanese, who was said to have identified them as a pair of bandits who held him up and attempted to rob him recently near Delhi.

When they found he had no cash, the bandits attempted to force him to write a check for $20, the Japanese declared.

On the robbery charge, Wright and Smith were placed under $2500 bail each, making a total of $5000 for Wright, who was forced to remain in jail. Smith, however, posted bail and is now at liberty pending Monday's hearing.

MUD SPATTERED PLATE ARREST ORDER GIVEN

Captain H. S. Warner of the state motorcycle police has ordered his corps in Orange county to arrest all motorists whose license plates are spattered with mud or otherwise not clearly visible.

Heretofore autoists with dirty plates were simply stopped and requested to wipe the numbers clean, but now the offenders will be stopped and arrested.

"This edict is not in effect in Orange county alone—the motorcycle officers throughout the entire state have been ordered to arrest motorists anywhere in California if the 'clean plate' law is violated."

"No matter how muddy or dusty the rest of the car gets, the license plates must be kept clean," Captain Warner declared. "It may be necessary for a few drivers to pay fines of $25 each before they get the habit of dusting the plates now and then, but we have been given orders to enforce the law without fear or favor."

READ THIRD ANNUAL SHARK FIGHT STORY

Considerable astonishment was expressed by residents of Newport Beach today when they read in the Los Angeles morning newspapers a graphic account of a hair-raising battle between a man-eating shark and Richard Gunther yesterday a mile off shore.

According to the Los Angeles newspapers, Gunther and Donald Cavanaugh, 14, were fishing in a small boat when the giant killer shark made an attack on the boat. The account of the battle describes in detail Gunther's battle with his only weapon was a smooth-faced spear.

The shark, said by the Los Angeles press to have been more than twenty feet long, finally leaped from the water sufficient to crush the gunwale between its huge jaws.

Al Warnick and Albert Himes, hearing the cries of the youth in the boat, continued the story, finally came to the rescue of Gunther, and the bleeding shark, "swam slowly away."

City Marshal J. A. Porter was one of the residents expressing wonderment. "That's the third annual shark struggle story," he said. "I was not informed of this year's struggle yesterday."

'ARREST' AUTO OF CARELESS PILOT, PLEA

Tying up of automobiles belonging to owners who are convicted of careless driving will do more than any other method of punishment to cause such violators to respect the law, in the opinion of Will H. Marsh, superintendent of the division of motor vehicles, as expressed today.

Marsh declares that the law should be amended to permit judges to tie up cars instead of fining the drivers.

"The man who is convicted of reckless driving and whose license is suspended should have his car taken away from him at the same time," said Marsh. "If the car is tied up during the period his license is suspended, a real punishment will have been meted out and the public will be assured that the moment the reckless driver is released he will not be able to go on driving or turn the car over to some member of the family to drive for him."

"The lesson is of little avail to the reckless motorist if it does not inconvenience him to such an extent that he will hesitate to commit a like offense."

Loss $100,000 as L. A. School Burns

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—With the loss estimated at $100,000, fire late last night destroyed the auditorium of the Lafayette junior high school, at Twelfth near Hooper. The building was a one-story brick structure. The flames had gained a strong headway before the fire department arrived, and entirely consumed the building.

BAD JUDGMENT OF DISTANCE, SPEED HELD COMMON ON HIGHWAYS

Few Automobile Operators Know Time to Apply
Brakes Is Claim

122 KILLED BY TRAINS

Momentum, Weight of Car, Declivity and Condition of Road Important

BY HORACE FINE
(Register Automobile Editor)

Is the judgment of motorists as to speed and distance bad?

In opinion of traffic officers—yes.

My observation has been that a very limited number of operators of automobiles know when to apply their brakes, and under what pressure, to halt before reaching a specified point. Better judgment in this respect would prevent many minor accidents that occur.

A far less number, even, can figure correctly the speed to which they can pick up within a certain limit of time or distance.

According to a report by the Interstate Commerce commission, covering railroad crossing accidents for 1922, the last year for which there are complete returns, 122 persons were killed and 911 others injured as a result of vehicles running into the sides of trains.

Such "freak" accidents can be attributed to no other cause than efforts to beat a train to a crossing and to poor judgment as to speed and distance.

Motorists who try to speed up and beat the train to a crossing, forget the important consideration that they cannot reach the track as fast with a full car as they could without an extra passenger—the pickup is much slower.

Drivers also forget that with a full car, once under way, they cannot stop the machine so easily. In fact, speed even is a more important consideration in stopping.

Some drivers believe that the difficulty in stopping a car increases merely in proportion to the speed. The fact is, other things being equal, it increases with the square of the speed.

Besides speed, momentum, or the weight behind the car, declivity and condition of the road have much to do with the stopping of a machine.

No matter how hard the brakes are applied, even if the wheels are locked, the car's momentum, increasing with the speed, is going to push it along until it comes to a definite halt.

It takes more than speed to determine the distance at which a car can be stopped effectively. Brakes must be in perfect condition. The driver's judgment of time and distance must be accurate. Variance in weight and momentum of the car must be considered.

For the purpose of setting facts before my readers I am presenting in another column of today's automobile section, a diagram showing the shortest distance at which an automobile with two brakes can be stopped when going at certain speeds. It is worth careful consideration by motorists who give attention to the matter of points that will serve to eliminate accidents.

C. W. McNaught, local fire insurance man, today took issue with the declaration by Herman Zabel, finger print expert in the sheriff's office, that a law requiring motor operators to carry liability insurance would be effective in eliminating many irresponsible drivers.

Zabel advanced the plan in a communication to me published in this section two weeks ago.

His point was the companies issuing policies would be exacting and would not issue them to men whose vision was imperfect or who had other defects that made operation of automobiles by them a general hazard. McNaught asserted that the indemnity liability companies are not stringent in examination of applicants for policies and that for that reason the suggested plan would not be effective.

SCHEDULE 3 WALNUT FIELD MEETS HERE

Three special field meetings are being arranged by Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg and the walnut department of the Orange county farm bureau for Wednesday, July 9 at 2 p. m. at Fullerton, and Thursday, July 10 at 10 a. m. at Tustin, and 2 p. m. at Katella.

Due to the large number of requests at the agricultural extension office for information on the treatment of walnut diseases appearing in the current season, the walnut department has deemed it advisable to conduct at least three field demonstrations in the principal walnut growing sections in the county for the purpose of bringing to the walnut growers the latest approved methods of disease control. Wahlberg stated.

Among diseases that will be discussed are walnut crown rot, melaxoma, black sap, oak root fungus, and crown gall. The local committees will endeavor to have specimens of all these present at the scheduled meetings. The exact location of these meetings has not been announced.

CONSTANTLY IMPROVED BUT NO YEARLY MODELS

There are obvious benefits to the purchaser in Dodge Brothers policy of making constant, gradual improvements in their product instead of changing from one design to another year after year.

Chief among these is the fact that the car may be operated throughout the full limit of its usefulness without the extra depreciation loss which results from a rapid succession of radically different models.

LAST OF STATE HIGHWAY BOND ISSUE SOLD

BY HARVEY M. TOY,
Chairman of the California
Highway Commission

The last of the forty million dollar state highway bond issue, voted by the people in 1919, is gone. The last block of the bonds—a total of $3,000,000—was auctioned off by the state treasurer and brought a premium of $181,500, the largest in the history of highway bond sales in California.

The purchase was made by a syndicate of eight large San Francisco and New York banks, represented in the bidding by the Anglo, London-Paris bank of San Francisco. The interest rate of 4½ per cent, fixed by the highway finance board, brought out a large crowd of bidders.

N. Y. Bank Opponent In the wind-up, the successful syndicate was being opposed by the National City bank of New York, which offered a premium of $181,000. The first offer was a premium of $50,000.

The sale of the bonds will have little effect on the finances of the highway commission so far as any new work is concerned. All of the money will be needed to make payments on contracts already under way.

From now on, the commission's only source of revenue for new work will be federal aid allotments. All available funds from this source also are obligated at the present time, and the commission anticipated a slowing down of new work until belated payments from the federal government build up the funds to a point where additional contracts can be entered into.

Situation Made Known This situation was brought to the attention of the public early this week, when R. M. Morton, state highway engineer, announced that notice of bids had been recalled on two grading jobs in the Truckee river canyon and on the construction of a bridge in Ventura county.

The time has arrived when very little new work can be undertaken until the legislature puts in force some plan for the refinancing of state highway work. Studies along this line are now being made by the committee of nine, appointed by Governor Richardson, and a plan will be presented to the next session when it convenes in January.

The sale of the $3,000,000 in bonds brings the state's total bonded indebtedness for highways up to a total of $73,000,000. All of this sum will not be finally paid off until 1965, and the total cost to the state will be in the neighborhood of $155,000,000.

Finds Business In East Moving at Slow Stride

"California is so far ahead of the Eastern states, as far as business and employment is concerned, that there is no comparison."

This statement was made here today by W. W. Hoy, former city engineer, who has returned from a month's visit in the East.

"In Chicago," Hoy said, "I saw thousands of men in the streets who were hanging around the employment offices seeking work. In New York and Pittsburgh conditions were almost identical, but out in the country the farmers cannot hire help for love or money."

"So many persons are moving to California from the East that it is necessary to make reservations ten days and two weeks ahead in order to get traveling accommodations."

Food prices in the east are about the same as here, according to Hoy. In Delaware county, New York, he said, he went into a country store and saw a box of oranges from Orange, one from Anaheim and a crate of cantaloupes from the Imperial valley. The price of cantaloupes was identical, Hoy added, with that which he paid before going East.

Hoy was a delegate from the United Presbyterian church of Santa Ana to the general assembly of the United Presbyterian churches, held at Richmond, Ind.

WOULD REQUIRE PILOTS CARRY INSURANCE

The Orange County Automobile Trades association today had approved a movement instigated by the American Automobile association to obtain legislation making it compulsory for all operators of automobiles to take out liability insurance.

The association has sent out questionnaires to all motor organizations asking for expressions of opinion on the plan.

In discussions before the association here, it was pointed out that such procedure would protect persons who are injured by car owners who have no financial standing.

"I consider the movement just, and one entitled to the support of every automobile organization as well as all other organizations," said H. M. Kinslow, president of the county association.

"The cost of carrying the insurance is very small. The auto owner who has an estate and who is competent financially to take care of any one injured, usually carries liability. Not so with those who have not accumulated resources. In too many instances persons are injured by the latter type of owner and the burden of bills for doctors and nurses falls directly on the person injured.

"A uniform law throughout the nation making the carrying of liability insurance compulsory would be generally beneficial, in my opinion."

WOMEN ASK FUNDS FOR PREVENTORIUM

The Federation of Women's clubs of Orange county has undertaken the establishment of a preventorium camp for tubercularly-inclined children, and hopes, according to Mrs. B. M. Selover of Yorba Linda, chairman of the press committee, that the camp site obtained for this purpose may be put into use as early in July as possible, provided additional funds are available to finance the project.

"The board of supervisors," Mrs. Selover said, "has already appropriated $1000 for the project, but more funds are needed. For this reason, an appeal is being made to all public-spirited citizens to aid at this time in this work."

"The preventorium will take care of some twenty children this year, who, without the benefits such a camp will give them, would develop active tuberculosis within a few months."

All contributions should be mailed to Mrs. C. C. Violet of Garden Grove, chairman of the preventorium committee."

IMPORTS GAIN DUE TO BUILDING BOOM

America's building boom is being heard around the world, according to the Trade Record, published by the National City bank of New York, which says:

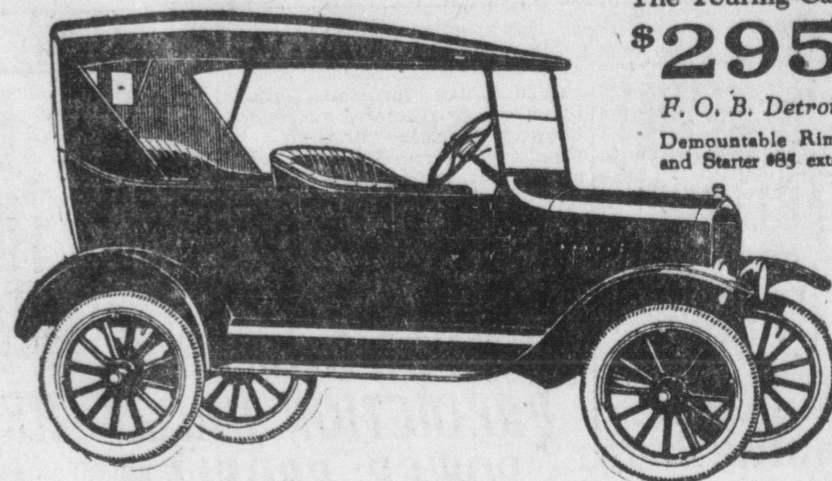

In the tin mines of Java and the Malayan peninsula, in the steel works of Great Britain, in the mahogany forests of Africa, Central America and the Philippines, in the brick yards of Germany and England, in the carpet works of Turkey, Persia and China, in the glass factories of Belgium and in the lumber camps of Canada, the demand of the American market for building materials is intensifying activities.

This growing demand for building material, much of which we have usually met from our own domestic resources, is illustrated by a comparison of the latest figures on importation of building material with those of earlier years. Take lumber, for example: The value of "boards, planks and deals" imported in the ten months ending with April, 1924, is, in round terms, $48,000,000 against $27,000,000 in the corresponding months of 1922 and $17,000,000 in the full calendar year 1913. Most of this, of course, comes from our neighbor, Canada

SLOW DRIVING EXHAUSTS MAN IS CLAIMED

"The World's Slowest Driver Arrested for Speeding."

That was the way the San Juan newspapers carried headlines several days ago, in telling one of the incidents connected with Joseph Ellison's hike from San Francisco to Los Angeles without food.

Ellison left San Francisco with a schedule of 25 miles a day for 20 consecutive days, while at the same time sustaining life by drinking distilled water, but eating no food of any kind. With him were his wife and daughter and his manager, Joe Brown.

"An Essex six was used for transportation of the party," said R. W. Townsend, of the Townsend Motor company, Essex distributor. "At San Juan, Carvel McCormick, driver of the Essex, was so exhausted after the day's slow drive, that he hurried back to the hotel, passing through the town at 20 miles an hour. Shortly after reaching his destination, he was summoned to the Constable's office to answer to the charge of speeding. It cost him $10 cash and $10 suspended sentence."

"The Essex made all of the hills on high gear at less than three miles per hour, except San Juan and Conejo grades. The car was taken in second. The performance of the car was considered exceptional, as no machine has ever been put over the road at this slow speed for 500 miles, as far as can be learned."

SO. CAL. INCOME TAX GAIN SHOWN

Report to Washington, as made from Los Angeles by Collector Rex B. Goodcell, of the June collections for all classes of taxes, for the sixth district of California, shows a huge increase over the collections made for the same month of 1923, according to information Thad A. Davis, deputy collector here, had received today.

The total amount collected for June, 1923, was $8,498,809.07, while the revenue collected on all classes of taxes for June, 1924, amounted to $9,387,861.63, a gain of $889,052.62, which is an increase in excess of 10 per cent over the taxes collected for a like period last year.

"This startling increase in the receipt of Federal taxes was made in spite of the 25 per cent reduction in 1923 income taxes provided by the new Revenue Bill, and the fact that large numbers of taxpayers made their payments at the recent installment-paying period at the reduced rate," said Collector Goodcell.

Collector Goodcell, according to Davis, received from Washington the text of some recent decisions of the supreme court, in one of which a ruling was handed down stating that under the provisions of the revenue act non-resident citizens of the United States, whose income is derived wholly from the ownership of property situated in a foreign country, may be taxed for income tax purposes and the tax collected.

Another ruling received by Collector Goodcell provides that the proceeds of a policy of insurance upon the life of an officer of a corporation paid to the corporation as beneficiary are not taxable as income.

The supreme court also ruled that a person who has the right to the permanent use of a box in an opera house who sells the right to use such box for more than 50 cents in excess of the established price for such box is liable to the tax of 50 per cent of the amount of such excess.

Four Will Share $20,000 Estate

The late J. L. Hunton, of Anaheim, who died May 25, left a $20,000 estate to his widow, Emma J. Hunton, and their three children. It was disclosed today when the widow filed a petition to the superior court, asking probate of the will.

The children are J. D. Hunton, Mrs. Lena Jay and Mrs. Emma Farwell, all of Anaheim. Attorney Clyde Bishop, Santa Ana, represents the petitioner.

First Airplane Mail Comes to S. A. Thursday

The first mail coming across the continent by fast airplane directed to Santa Ana reached the Santa Ana postoffice at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, July 3. The mail plane left New York city at 10 o'clock July 1. Mail directed to Santa Ana left the plane at Salt Lake at 11:05 a. m. July 2, or San Francisco at 5:45 p. m. July 2.

Glenn L. Martin, former Santa Ana and now one of the foremost airplane manufacturers in the world, sent letters to a number of his Santa Ana friends over the first plane coming west under the new schedule.

Martin commented upon the fact that the fast night and day flying makes it possible for letters to cross the continent in from thirty-two to thirty-five hours.

"I am writing this note because I am enthusiastic over this new service," wrote Martin in one of his letters to Santa Ana, "and believe you will also enjoy receiving it because it is carried on the first plane flying in this new epoch in the history of communication."

DEALER LINKS HERD PLAGUE, CAR FINISH

There would ordinarily seem to be little connection between the recent epidemic of the hoof and mouth disease in California and the finish used on motor cars.

But as soon as the authorities began to take means against the spread of this disease, a striking difference in the finish of various motor cars was brought out. "While the chemicals used in disinfectants caused the finish on the majority of cars to turn white, it had not the slightest effect on the Duco finish of the Oakland cars that passed through," said George Miles of the Killen-Miles Motor company, Oakland dealers.

"Yet this test was but a mild repetition of the Oakland demonstrators put on throughout the country recently when hot tar, sulphuric acid, lime and lighted matches were placed against the Duco finish to prove how impervious it is to damage."

"Another striking indication of the durability of Duco was furnished by the recent Indianapolis race when twenty-two of the twenty-eight cars that practiced on the track preliminary to the big race were finished in Duco. This finish can be put on quickly, and is easily repaired in case of accident, even when the lightest colors are used."

NATIONAL CLUB ZONE MANAGER STOPS HERE

W. B. Stone, zone manager for the National Automobile club, was in Santa Ana this week calling on local insurance agents who are representatives of the national organization.

The club is backed by more than one hundred of the leading insurance organizations in the United States and the membership in this state is approximately 15,000, Stone said.

"The club offers the automobile owner a new and comprehensive service," Stone said. "Some of the features are free roadside repair anywhere in the state, free towing anywhere in the state, free transportation of gasoline and oil and free tire changing for women or men physically incapacitated."

Asserting that the club does not do an insurance business, the manager said it had been organized to meet the demand for a complete automobile service, including tow-car service, touring information, legal advice and other features which the individual insurance companies were not prepared to meet.

"The National Automobile club will not sell insurance, but will maintain an insurance department where information in regard to policies and adjustments may be obtained," Stone concluded. "A member may place his insurance where he pleases."

WILLARD PERFECTS NEW AUTO BATTERY

The Willard Storage Battery company of Cleveland has just placed on the market a new battery for auto starting and lighting which, according to Earl Matthews, local representative, might be called "The Sleeping Beauty."

"If you remember your fairy tales," said Matthews, "you will recall how the sleeping beauty slumbered for a hundred years without physical change and came back to life when the kiss of the fairy prince awakened her."

"The new sleeping beauty battery is like the girl in the fairy story. It sleeps without physical change until the kiss of the battery solution wakes it to life."

"The secret is in the plates and insulation. The plates are made according to a new Willard process known to the trade as charged bone dry. The process induces a chemical change in them during manufacture, which stays put until the battery solution releases it in the form of electrical energy."

Mac O. Robbins, C. E. Prior and Ed Holmes were among those who were mentioned as local representatives of the club.

LIONS OBSERVE PATRIOTISM PROGRAM

J. A. George, Lyle Anderson and O. H. Egge today were receiving the congratulations of members for the impressive patriotic program they conducted at Thursday's meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club, held at St. Ann's Inn.

The meeting date being the day before 148th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the program was effective in impressing upon members the importance of the day.

Impersonating Uncle Sam, George recounted the history of this nation from the time of the landing of the pilgrims, Egge explaining in advance how the character of Uncle Sam was created and named.

War Periods Depicted In the regalia of Uncle Sam, George was introduced to the club at the conclusion of the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by a quartette composed of Fred Wilde, Dr. E. H. Rowland, Bruce Monroe and Anderson. After reviewing the high points of history prior to 1776, George presented Harry Brackett, who was attired in the costume of that day, while the quartette sang "America."

Spanning the period up to the Civil war, George introduced Judge E. T. Langley as one of the boys of '65, his presentation being preceded by the singing of "John Brown's Body" by the quartette. Judge Langley made a brief address, in which he declared Uncle Sam always had been square with his subjects.

Touching on the Spanish war, the chairman brought his auditors down to the period of the World war, introducing Elmer T.

Worthy, who made a talk on patriotism and who recited some incidents of America's participation in the big struggle. Efficient training, good marksmanship and patriotism of the doughboys, he declared, were the important factors in attaining the history the doughboys made while overseas.

From Community Chest Preceding the program, Wilde gave the three-minute impromptu talk, in which he urged adoption here of the community chest plan for raising funds for assisting various organizations.

In a spirit of fun, and with no disclosed reason, Walter Spicer, on behalf of the program committee, presented John Henderson, secretary, with an alleged watch chain—a "gold chain" of sufficient size and strength to hold an article of many times the weight of the fifty-year-old watch the secretary carries.

That's Speed ~ That's Pep

THIS is a confidential announcement to the motorcycle policemen of the United States.

If you see a streak of flying green with a blur of balloon tires bursting over the distant horizon and passing you like a teal duck somewhere west of Kankakee, you don't need to get the number.

It's The Great Jordan Line Eight.

You can do something to prevent its happening twice. We are sorry but we can't do anything to prevent its happening once.

Someone is surely going to drive the Great Jordan Line Eight awfully fast.

Of course it's wrong—we know it's crazy.

Nobody really approves. But we're all human.

The most desirable Jordan owner will be happy just loafing smoothly along from twenty-five to forty.

Those in whom the spirit of youth still reveals will be tempted to try it at fifty-five. They won't realize that they are going forty.

But some day out of the blue will burst some young man who wants to see how fast The Great Line Eight can go.

If he can find the place to do it—which we hope he will not—he will hover around sixty-five—get up his nerve—step on her some more and reach seventy.

Then if he values his life he will slow down. If speed is still attractive who knows what might happen.

Ask Bill Jones—He Knows

Aside from the favored few, Bill Jones, the motorcycle cop in Pumpkin Center, can tell you most about The Great Line Eight.

After Bill witnessed the test over the measured mile—5280 feet in fifty seconds—of course he wanted to drive.

Bill had been all the way through the primary grades in motor car thrills.

He knew what it was to feel a Ford starting for the Four-Corner grocery.

Someone let him drive a high priced automobile which weighed a couple of tons.

Bill thought he had been somewhere.

When he stepped into The Great Line Eight he turned his cap peak backward, and discovered that the longest distance in the world was between the full throw-out position of the accelerator and the floor board.

He kept stepping on it and stepping on it—a new thrill every minute—until finally Bill was doing seventy.

Then he grasped the wheel more firmly and stepped on her some more. It seemed to Bill that his foot would never reach the floor.

When he was doing seventy-three Sam Simpson's big red bantam rooster started across the road—just to get on the other side.

Folks around the town pump will tell you that you ain't been nowhere and you ain't seen nothing until you have driven The Great Jordan Line Eight.

It Can Be Done—But Don't Do it!

Don't drive The Great Line Eight as fast as it will go.

It's against the law. Besides it's dangerous. It's not the speed that sensible people want, but it's the feeling of great reserve that everybody loves. It's a beautiful car.

The newest, latest, up-to-the-minute automobile—the accepted style leader for 1925.

Everything is new—bodies—lines—radiator—motor—frame—axles—transmission—wheels—balloon tires—starting and lighting—balloon steering—comfort—springs—cushions—snubbers—upholstery—universals—brakes—top—fenders—instrument arrangement—appointments—colors—thrills—sensations—prices—everything.

But you can't describe such a car—you have to see it—you have to feel it—you will learn to love it.

Ask the Jordan dealer to notify you on the day The Great Line Eight arrives.

Thousands of orders have already been received from dealers. Some will be disappointed in the face of such a demand.

Thousands of Jordan owners will be favored with first deliveries—they are our friends.

COMBINE RADIO ASK $3,000 FOR AND AUTO IN LIFE GUARD STATION CRIME WAR

Radio and the automobile have been combined by the Detroit police department into an effective means of chasing and capturing bandits, according to George Dunton, Lincoln and Ford dealer.

"Three Lincoln touring cars, specially equipped for the work, patrol Detroit's streets twenty-four hours a day ready to respond to the radio alarm as it is broadcasted from police headquarters," Dunton said.

"Each car carries, beside the driver, a detective lieutenant and two plainclothes men. The receiving set, with loud speaker attachment, is in constant tune with headquarters, receiving all reports as fast as they come in to the police."

"It was only a few nights after the new police flyers had begun patrol duties when a drug store holdup was reported. Within a moment the silent call was going out over the city from the police broadcasting station. It was picked up by one of the flyers and thirteen minutes after the robbery had been committed the two robbers had been run down and captured, their car seized and the stolen money recovered."

"In selecting cars for the arduous duties which the flyers are called upon to perform, officials of the police department decided upon the Lincoln as affording the best performance and highest speed. Specifications for the cars required a speed of 75 miles an hour and in tests held just before delivery was made all the cars did better than 80 miles an hour, speedometers reading between 83 and 84 miles an hour."

COMPLETE TUSTIN COURTS

TUSTIN, July 5.—Workmen have been busy for the past few days completing cement tennis courts for the local grammar school. One of the huge pine trees on the school grounds was cut down to make room for the courts. Tennis has become a popular sport about the city and the high school courts are nearly always full of people, both young and old, many of them coming from Santa Ana. Two new courts are being constructed at the grammar school.

NEWPORT BEACH, July 5.—It is expected that the board of trustees of Newport Beach at its meeting on Monday night of next week will appropriate $3000 to match the $3000 appropriated by Orange county supervisors for the installation of a weather station and life guard house on the Palisades.

Favorable action on the part of the city trustees is a foregone conclusion as it was through a committee appointed by the city fathers that the county supervisors agreed to appropriate $3000. The city has been working long and earnestly to get a weather station on the Palisades. The government has agreed to furnish all necessary instruments to equip the weather station upon its completion.

A committee recently appointed by the trustees to confer with the Sparr Realty company, owners of much of the ocean front property at the Palisades, has had two conferences with representatives of the company but to date has not decided on the exact site for the building. However, it is expected that the decision will be reached by the middle of next week.

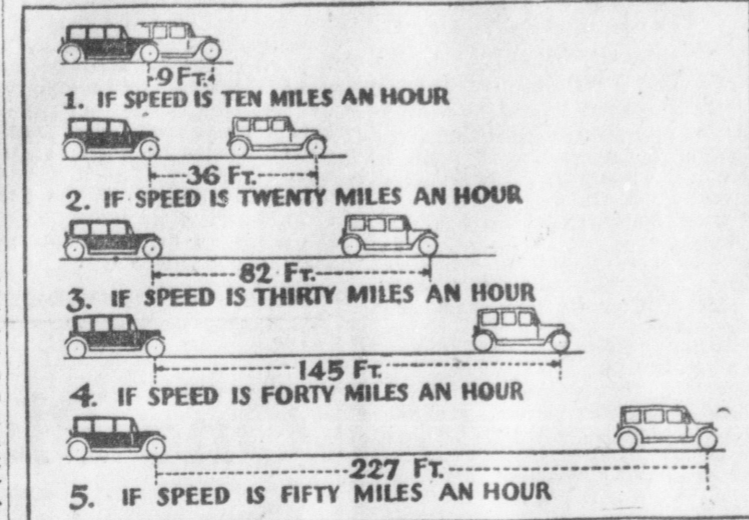

The Sparr company has asked the city to abandon certain streets on the Palisades in order that it can utilize all the ocean frontage property for the proposed Corona Del Mar club. The Sparr company, in return, it is understood, will donate a suitable site for the city to erect its weather station and life guard house.

DIAGRAM SHOWS DISTANCES CAR MAY BE STOPPED WHEN MOVING AT CERTAIN SPEED

Here is a diagram showing the shortest distances at which an automobile with two brakes can be stopped when going at certain speeds. Careful analysis by drivers will be of value in directing their attention to important points in halting cars and in preventing accidents. Reference to the diagram is made by the automobile editor in an editorial on the first page of today's auto section.

FACTORY TOOL LIKE TORTURE INSTRUMENT

BY H. H. DALE (Packard Dealer)

Back in medieval days when a man could scarcely trust his best friend to keep himself out of the clutches of the Inquisition, there existed an instrument of torture known as the Iron Maiden. It was a hollow iron cabinet, in size the height and width of a man, but cast with the form and features of a woman. The front of the "body" was swung on hinges fastened to one side. When opened, it revealed two long and sharpened steel spear points affixed to the inside of the maiden exactly in back of her eyes. A victim was placed, bound and upright, within the Iron Maiden, then the open half was closed slowly. Without varying a hair's breadth the Iron Maiden's spear points gradually and relentlessly pierced the victim within its embrace.

It may be a far cry from instruments of medieval torture to modern manufacturing devices, but quite frequently there are resemblances. In the body shops at the Packard Motor Car company there has recently been installed a metal assembly form which because of its unrelenting precision, has been nicknamed the Iron Maiden.

It is a massive fixture built of steel and iron. An idea of its permanence may be gained from its weight of 4825 pounds, nearly two and one-half tons. Four sturdy uprights support channel steel cross beams which form a rectangle in the general shape and height of the body being assembled. From the cross beams drop down aluminum arms, faced with steel, which lock into place and establish inflexible limits of measurement. There can be no variation in any direction. Instead of crushing into position the component parts of the body, this metal set-up jig fixes with absolute accuracy certain limits which insure that each body is assembled with the same precision.

BEACH LEGION TO HELP IN BONUS WORK

NEWPORT BEACH, July 5.—Arrangements were completed at the regular meeting of Newport Beach post of the American Legion this week to assist World War veterans in filling out their applications for adjusted compensation. Ernest Grill was named to take charge of the work.

Application forms for adjusted compensation were received by the Newport post this week together with instructions for filling them out. The post was appointed by the government to take charge of the work.

Mr. Grill, who had several weeks' experience in taking fingerprints while in the service, will do this work for all World War veterans, regardless of whether they are members of the legion or otherwise. Legion men also will assist veterans who do not belong to the association in filling out their applications.

Plans for erecting the new Legion home in Balboa were discussed at the meeting. The Legion has acquired 200 feet fronting on the bay at Tenth street on which it intends to construct its building. Plans for this home are being drawn up at this time and it is hoped that actual building work will commence about the first of September. The plans call for a building with several bedrooms, the idea being to take care of visiting Legion men over night when they come to Newport or Balboa.

ANAHEIM BUILDING RECORD ANAHEIM, July 5.—Building permits for the month of July in Anaheim totaled $13,600, according to figures recorded here, which has brought the total valuation for the year to $713,238.

ORDER RUSH ON AT CLEVELAND FACTORY

"Since the introduction of the entirely new 1925 Cleveland Six featuring the 'One Shot' automatic chassis lubrication system and the Mileage Motor, the Cleveland factory has been obliged to work overtime in an endeavor to keep up with the constant stream of orders for new cars being received from the Cleveland Six distributing organization," says Fred Medbery, local distributor for the Cleveland.

"Each day finds it necessary to add more men to the working forces at the factory, and every indication is that this condition will continue," said the agent.

"Production of the 1925 Cleveland Six has been increased approximately fifty percent within the last few days. Closed models continue to hold their popularity with the buying public but the new and attractive open models of the Cleveland line are winning many admirers if present orders are any indication.

"Even though four-wheel brakes are optional equipment at a slight extra cost with the new line, the majority of cars being shipped are equipped with the four-wheel braking system."

Fireworks Stand At Beach Burns; Damage Set At $75

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 5.—Excitement was rife on the pike here yesterday for a few minutes when the fireworks stand of the O'Leary Drug company in concession number four in the pavilion caught fire from flying sparks from other fireworks.

Nearly 150 worth of fireworks, including skyrockets, pin wheels, cannon crackers, and roman candles, were burned. Damage to the building was estimated at about $75. The fire was extinguished by prompt work on the part of the local fire department. No one was injured.

PROFESIONAL NURSE SAYS TANLAC HAS NO EQUAL

Mrs. J. Clark Says Tanlac Was More Than Match For Her Troubles.

By reason of the fact that she speaks from her long experience as a professional nurse, the statement of Mrs. J. Clark of 415 Walsworth Ave., Oakland, Calif., will be of interest to all who are in need of an upbuilding tonic. "In all my fifteen years' experience as a trained nurse," says Mrs. Clark's statement, "I never found the equal of Tanlac as a stomach medicine and tonic. Two years ago an attack of influenza left me without appetite and my stomach in such a bad fix that the little I did eat seemed to do me harm instead of good."

"Stomach pains would make me so weak I would feel right faint. The least exertion would completely exhaust me and six months before taking Tanlac I utterly exhausted me and six housework done. I was in bed most of the time for two months and was getting desperate. 'Tanlac was more than a match for my troubles and eight bottles left me feeling fine. I eat and sleep like a child and have energy and strength that makes life a pleasure. Tanlac is simply grand.' Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold."

WALL ST. JOURNAL
FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, July 5.—The change in sentiment toward the Northwestern Railroad shares found sharp response in today's two-hour interruption of the triple holiday.
A slim attendance by traders who have lately sponsored operations in those issues.
Interest even in the railroad shares was not lasting, and after the first hour there was no great show of activity.

S. P. ASKS FOR MERGER WITH ARIZ. LINE

The Southern Pacific company has applied to the interstate commerce commission for permission to merge the El Paso and Southwestern railway lines with the Southern Pacific system, by an exchange of securities, according to word which L. B. Valla, district agent of the Southern Pacific here, had received today from William Sproule, president of the bigger railway. The deal involves about $57,000,000.

Valla explained the proposed affiliation, as follows:
"The El Paso and Southwestern is almost crescent in shape and runs from Tucson, Ariz., to Dawson, N. M. It is used by the Rock Island for its line between El Paso and Kansas City, Chicago and St. Louis, that branch of the Rock Island being known as the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific. Through sleepers to the Pacific coast were sent over this route.
"New lines are promised in Arizona that will put Phoenix on the main line of the Southern Pacific. This work will shorten the distance between Los Angeles and El Paso and cut down the time.
Progress Outlined
"The new line would be undertaken under the name of Arizona Eastern railroad, a subsidiary."
President Sproule, in a statement he issued, said:
"The interests of the two companies are to become one through the acquisition of stock and control by lease of the El Paso and Southwestern system by the Southern Pacific company, this being accomplished by an exchange of securities.
Figures In Deal
"The Southern Pacific company is to acquire all of the outstanding capital stock of the El Paso and Southwestern railroad system, including the various rail road subsidiaries, together with all its assets of every nature; in return the El Paso and Southwestern interests are to receive 280,000 shares of the common stock of the Southern Pacific company, having a par value of $25,000,000. Per cent collateral trust bonds of the Southern Pacific company with a par value of $29,450,000 or a total of $57,450,000 par value.
"When that takes place the Southern Pacific company agrees to construct lines in Arizona, connecting with the present main line, that will result in putting Phoenix and the Salt River valley upon the main line and will give the Southern Pacific company the benefit of a double track service through the larger part of the territory it traverses in Arizona.
Connect Tucson, Phoenix
"This new line will leave the present main line of the Southern Pacific at or near Picacho, 46 miles west of Tucson, and then proceed across the Gila river. Paralleling the Gila it will serve the well developed Chandler section of the Salt River valley, connecting there with the branch lines of the Arizona Eastern railroad, which is a subsidiary already constructed by the Southern Pacific.
"Thus Arizona secures from the Southern Pacific a double track main line substantially all the way from El Paso to Dome, and important cities now served only by branch lines will be given main line service.
"From Tucson eastward the line of the El Paso and Southwestern system with its branches

HAS NO FINGER FOR VETERANS' BONUSPRINT

Officials of Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion were in a quandary today.
For two weeks they have been assisting World War veterans in making out their applications for adjusted compensation. To date everything has been lovely, in fact serene. No trouble, no perplexing questions and no problems that couldn't be threshed out by the local membership were presented.
Now they are stumped.
They want to know how to take the fingerprints of a veteran when he has no fingers.
Wednesday a returned soldier, Jerry Williams of Bremerton, Wash., appeared at the Legion home and asked for a blank. One of his arms was off above the elbow. His right hand had a thumb and the stubs of three fingers. The little finger was missing.
Williams finished his blank and when it came to taking his fingerprints—well there just wasn't any fingers.
The government requires fingerprints of an applicant to company with those taken when he entered the service.
Williams was wounded in the Argonne. His left arm was amputated. He was a press feeder by trade. He was mustered out of the service and tried to follow his trade. He then caught his fingers in a press. One member was severed and three had to be amputated.
Legion officials now are asking what to do so Williams may get compensation.

Russ Exile Wins American Heiress

LONDON, July 5.—Alice Astor, daughter of John Jacob Astor, New York, drowned in the sinking of the Titanic, is engaged to be married to Prince Obolensky Neledinsky-Meletsky, an exiled Russian nobleman present in London society, the Daily Express says today.

CALIFORNIA ORANGE PRICES STAGE GAIN

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 5.—(Office of the Fruit World)—During the past week the market on California Valencia oranges has held from steady to higher on sizes 216 and larger, easily off someone on smaller sizes.
In private sale markets demand was less brisk than was generally expected it would be.
Shipments have been light for the week. Arrivals at market center are steadily diminishing. The outlook for after the "Fourth" markets is good in so far as volume of supplies is concerned.
Compilations on the new estimate for this season's Valencia crop are ready for this issue. It probably will not run as high as previous estimates for this crop.
F. O. B. California quotations on Fancy Valencia oranges are as follows: Size 126s, $1.75 to $2.00; 150s, $2.50 to $2.75; 216s, $2.65 to $3.00; 252s, $2.25 to $2.52; 288s, $1.75 to $2.10; 324s, $1.50 to $1.85.
The peak of cantaloupe shipments from the Imperial Valley is past. It is estimated that there are 2500 cars remaining for shipment.
Cool weather has again checked the demand for California lemons in eastern markets. The Southern states have been less affected and the 360s size is meeting with a good demand there.
F. O. B. California quotations on Extra Choice fruit ranges from $4.50 to $5.50 depending on size, condition and quality.
There are on hand and available for sale at all United States ports approximately 188 cars of foreign lemons. This compares with 653 cars for the same date last year and 438 cars for 1922.
Shipments for the week were as follows:

6, INCLUDING 3 WOMEN, HURT IN CRASHES

The heavy Fourth of July automobile traffic was blamed for the injury to six persons in accidents yesterday which involved seven automobiles, according to today's records at the police station and sheriff's office here.

Mrs. Amelia Lynch of 202 North Ross street, Santa Ana, Mrs. C. Anna Wiley of 146 Twentieth avenue, and 4-year-old Robert W. Hollis of 1623 West Fifty-second street, both of Los Angeles, were injured when three automobiles crashed together at 10:45 a. m. on the Newport boulevard at Costa Mesa.

The car driven by S. H. Overaker of Costa Mesa, who is said to be elderly and nearly deaf, turned off the main highway onto a side street, directly in front of the cars driven by H. P. Rogers of 737 Providence street, Burbank, and Roy L. Hollis of Los Angeles. All three cars collided, according to the report, but the occupants of the Hollis car were the only ones seriously injured. It was reported Overaker failed to signal when he turned.

Girl's Knee Cut
Mrs. Wiley was hurried to the Santa Ana Valley hospital where it was learned her right shoulder was fractured and her body was badly bruised. Mrs. Lynch and the child sustained lacerations and bruises. They were taken to Mrs. Lynch's home in Santa Ana. Mrs. Wiley was taken to her home today.

Miss Christina Rameriz, 15, of 1735 West Fourth street, is nursing a long, deep gash across her left knee as the result of a collision between the automobile in which she was riding with Gerald Pacleras and the car driven by Fred H. Dibble, an "accident and health" insurance agent of Pasadena. The accident occurred at Main and Pine streets late yesterday. Pacleras' machine was badly damaged.

Raymond Johnson and S. Heller of Artesia were slightly injured yesterday afternoon when the car in which they were riding collided with the automobile driven by Mrs. Myrtle Thomas of 811 West Bishop street. Both cars were damaged. The crash occurred on South Main street near Edinger street.

Prepare For Jam
To avoid striking the approaching light truck of Evaristo Diaz yesterday morning, R. C. Kyle of Tustin drove his roadster into an orange grove at Tustin avenue and Depot street, damaging two trees and wrecking his car. No one was injured.

State motor police, constables and deputy sheriffs meantime prepared plans for patrolling the highways and for directing traffic in Orange county during the unusual congestion that is expected to-morrow evening when motorists are returning from Sunday trips or from the three-day Fourth of July weekend.

In Santa Ana traffic policemen will be stationed at First and Main, Fourth and Main, Fifth and Main and Fourth and Broadway, if the traffic conditions justify it, according to the announcement made today by City Marshal L. Claude Rogers.

FOREST BLAZE PERIL WORST IN 20 YEARS

Forcibly bringing home to residents of Orange county the gravity of the menace presented this summer by the forest fire situation, a bulletin was received here today from W. B. Greeley, chief of the United States forest service, San Francisco.

"Not since the San Francisco fire of 1906 has California faced a more critical situation than the fire hazard which menaces her forests, watersheds, stock ranges and grain fields this summer," said Greeley. "The shortage of rainfall has left the grass, brush and woodland areas so dry that fires burn with speed and destructiveness beyond anything that the forest service has experienced in the past twenty years."

Thus far there have been over 500 fires in the national forests of California this season. Not a day passes without reports of more dangerous fires at various points, with requests for help or supplies, as well as the frequent cheering news that some fire has been brought under control.

Year Unusually Dry.
"The situation outside of the national forests is even more serious because of the greater dryness of the country. The destruction of forage, grain crops, watersheds and ranch property throughout the state probably already exceeds the total loss caused by the foot and mouth plague, and the fire season has only fairly begun."

The acute period when forest and brush fires burn so fiercely as to be almost uncontrollable come with the recurring spells of exceptional heat, low humidity in the air, and hard dry winds from the north and east. We must expect these recurring waves of bad fire weather until October, and we must expect the fires that they bring to increase in size and destructiveness as the summer continues. The forests, ranges, and water sources of California are threatened as they have never been threatened before; and irreparable losses to the natural resources of the state can be prevented only by the most aggressive and coordinated action on the part of public and private agencies with the vigorous support of every citizen in the state.

93 Fires to Date.
"Some of our forest fires are started by lightning, and for these we must rely upon quick detection and upon speed in reaching and extinguishing the incipient fires. But already ninety-three fires have been started in the national forests by smokers, forty-two by campers, and 108 by other forms of human negligence. The terrible fire which devastated several thousand acres in the Sequoia national forest and almost burned out the General Grant national park with its giant sequoias was started by a couple of boys playing with matches. The loss from man-caused fires is bad enough in the usual summer, but this year promises to be many times worse because of the tinder-like character of the mountains and foothills. Not only is there tremendous danger of a destruction of the resources of the state such as 100 years cannot replace, but there is also danger of the loss of human life among the ranchers and campers, tourists, and recreation seekers in the more hazardous areas."

"This loss and danger must be avoided by preventing the kind of the woods and fields through human carelessness. It is a year when every Californian should do his utmost to co-operate."

Place Restrictions.
"The critical character of the present season will compel the forest service to place restrictions upon the use of the national forests which ordinarily are unnecessary. Not only to protect the federal properties but to prevent loss of life among visitors who might be caught in a fierce and sudden conflagration, it will be necessary to close a number of the more dangerous areas in the national forests to any form of recreational use except by people at established homes or hotels. It is unavoidable that camping, fishing, hunting, and travel be kept out of the parts of national forests where the fire hazard is extreme, particularly from the dry, hot canyons and brush covered slopes at low elevations. These restrictions will be imposed no further and no longer than absolutely unavoidable to protect the forest resources of California and prevent loss of human life."

OIL WORKER DIES FROM HEAD INJURY

Terry Foster, 24, employee of the Reliance Oil company, at Huntington Beach, died at the Santa Ana Valley hospital here at 8 p. m. yesterday, following an accident at 7:30 a. m. yesterday, when he was struck in the head by a heavy piece of timber, which fell from a derrick in the beach oil field. Death was said to have been due to concussion of the brain.
Foster was brought to the hospital here soon after the accident. The coroner's inquest will be held at 3 p. m. today at the McAlay undertaking establishment, Fullerton, where Foster has relatives and where the funeral will be held.

SETTLE SECOND POSITION TIE TOMORROW

Beanpickers Tangle With Laguna Beach; Battle Scene Is Irvine

To the victor belongs the spoils. That ancient wheeze, old as it may be, is the underlying reason for a diamond battle that tomorrow afternoon will determine whether Manager Arthur Trickey's Irvine Beanpickers or Manager Joe Sanford's Laguna Beach Cavewreckers finish second in the Orange County baseball league. The game will be played at Irvine.

After completing the regulation number of games in the season, the two teams were tied with six contests won and three lost. The Santa Ana Commercial company, undefeated, was the first place aggregation.

League rules call for a championship series of two games out of three between the first and second place teams, the winner to take off most of the money prize and the handsome trophy offered by the A. G. Spalding company.

Tomorrow's game will determine whether Irvine or Laguna Beach will tangle with the Commercial in the decisive and lucrative series. Manager Trickey announced today he would give the mound assignment to either Fred ("Dutch") Hinrichs or "Lefty" Hoover. Hinrichs is attending the U. S. C. school for coaches and has been working out all week so he probably will get the nod.

Sanford has Gripp and Jim Ash-ton ready for the summa and the hope along baseball row today was that the latter will open on the ridge.

Umpire Cal Mueller is scheduled to say the word at 2.30 o'clock.

COAST NET HONORS COPPED BY KINSEYS

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Champions of Pacific coast doubles teams for the fourth consecutive year, Robert and Howard Kinsey left today for St. Louis, where they will enter the national clay court singles and doubles tournament.

The San Francisco net stars defeated Tom Ferrandini and Harold Godshall in final matches of the coast tourney yesterday, 6-2, 7-5, 6-1. Only in the second set were the northerners forced to extend themselves. Over the remainder of the match they scored repeatedly and seemingly as well, being masters at every angle of the game.

The Kinseys won their way to the coast title through a formidable field that was thinned out by a series of upsets earlier in the week. Snodgrass and Westbrook, looked upon as favorites, were eliminated by Ferrandini and Godshall, while Phil Neer and Jim Davies, expected to put up stiff opposition, were put out in the round before the semi-final.

Snodgrass and Westbrook also left today for St. Louis, where national talent is assembled for the clay court matches.

Death Beckons to Ed Householder

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Eddie Householder, star ball player of coast teams a score of years ago, is dead today, less than a week after former teammates had arranged a benefit for him and his family.

A cancer of the stomach caused Householder's death yesterday, following a long illness. He was discovered in a hospital here recently and the benefit was arranged to help finance his illness.

Kinks-o' the Links

By JOE WILLIAMS.

The bigger and lighter golf ball will cease to be a conversational subject after the current season. By spring it will be a reality, and in the major tournaments next year it will be compulsory. This much was admitted by an official of the U. S. G. A. in the writer's presence at Detroit three weeks ago.

Among the great army of duffers here there is no plaintive plea for a change. The habitually high scores rather like the smaller, far-flying sphere which yields them amazing yardage, when a good hit is registered. Even the promise that the new ball will simplify the hit because it is bigger and therefore easier to "get up" leaves them cold and singularly unmoved. At best the huffer doesn't get a very long hit off the tee, or with his in-between shots, and any change in balls designed to curtail distance is not likely to win his whole and undivided approbation.

Luckily the duffer may do as he pleases about the new ball. He isn't good enough to play in the major tournaments and the U. S. G. A. isn't strong enough to tell him what to do. The U. S. G. A. explains its stand on the grounds that the ball is getting more lively each year, and that a stop must be made somewhere in order to preserve the original character and purpose of the present courses.

However, it is by no means positive that the bigger and lighter ball will solve the problem. Being lighter it will not fly as far, naturally, but whether it will be satisfactorily in other respects is questionable. It would have been interesting to study the characteristics of the new ball in the open championship at Oakland Hills recently when the wind blew a stiff gale across the course. Few of the stars could control the heavy ball in the wind and none of the leaders was able to equal par on the day of the finals. With a light, short-flying ball many of them might be trying to finish, and the scores would, we fear, have mounted into the hundreds.

Be that as it may, the cloth has been cut and the new ball is definitely on its way. It may turn out to be just the thing the doctor ordered and again it may be an awful bust.

ADAMS IS WINNER IN PITCHER SCRAP

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—Frankie Adams, Easterner going the California four-round route for the first time, lost to Johnny Adams at the Hollywood Legion Stadium last night.

Adams was in front over the entire distance, and in the third floor fight the Brooklyn boy failed to show the class his advance notices had indicated and the rugged San Bernardino light-weight had little difficulty in getting through his defense at will.

Johnny Drew and Tommy Carter, lightweights, fought a draw in the bout before the featured go.

COMMERCIALS TO TACKLE GLENDORA

Manager George Lackaye will take his undefeated Santa Ana Commercial company baseball team to Glendora tomorrow in quest of his first consecutive victory. Herb Salveson is scheduled to pitch. Perry Callahan will be back in the outfield for the first time in several weeks.

RYAN, FARRELL GO TO DRAW AT BEACH

Bantams Offer Whirlwind Main Event; Mexico Whips Frenchie

By RINGSIDER.

Young Farrell and Billy Ryan, bantamweights of some renown, will long have cause to remember the night before the Fourth of July, 1924.

Mixing four rounds at the Huntington Beach arena, these hard punching, young men provided a fair-sized gallery of spectators with enough firefights to last until next Independence day. They called it a draw—an easy way out of a hard one to call.

The boys were stewing around early in the bout without anyone getting bruised when someone said something the other one didn't like. The pin wheels then were off. For the next ten minutes the ringsiders were on their feet dodging sparks. It was a vicious, hammer and tongs fight with Ryan possibly a slight winner on points.

The venerable Kid Mexico rang up another victory in the semi-windup, "taking" into camp his old-time foe, Teddy Frenchie, colored middleweight from Los Angeles. Mexico was the aggressor throughout and the verdict was well received.

Danny Harrara should have had more than a draw in his go with Battling Bargees. It was a good match at that.

Young Lanchao and Walloping Wilson went four rounds to a draw and Young Sabio stopped Henry Guasana in the second.

CLARENCE DE MAR

Times have changed since the individual shaving mug and the Ascot tie were in fashion. For instance, it is no longer a positive crime to christen the young hopeful Clarence.

A Clarence no longer indicates a passion for pink sodas and croquet, and credit for lifting the unjustly maligned name to a position of dignity and respect belongs to a middle-aged Boston printer, by name Clarence De Mar.

It may be that Clarence De Mar likes his pink sodas and plays an occasional round of croquet, but also he happens to be America's greatest marathon runner as well as the country's chief reliance in the Olympic struggle.

You don't find many faint-hearted, weak-willed or poorly conditioned men going out for the marathon with its grueling distance of 26 miles 385 yards.

Break of Olympic Team

De Mar is the most unique figure on the American team, unique in the sense that he is absolutely his own trainer and boss. De Mar has a style all his own. He runs with a vigorous leg swing, much after the fashion of a sprinter. At no time does he seem to be taking matters easy, which is the approved custom of the long distance runner.

De Mar is not on a training diet. He eats what and when he pleases. Diets have never meant anything in the Boston man's life. He has been running for 15 years and has never had a stomach pain, a common ailment among marathoners.

Acting on the theory that you can't teach an old settler to use a finger bowl the Olympic coaches have turned De Mar loose to do as his fancy dictates. They realize they are running no big risk. As recent as last April De Mar set a new world record for the marathon, winning the Boston run in 2 hours, 29 minutes, 40 1-5 seconds. The old record of 2 hours 32 minutes 34 4-5 seconds was held by Hannes Kohlenstein, the great Finn, who incidentally, will be his most dangerous rival at Paris.

Costa Mesa's crack aggregation of bowlers today had stepped into the spotlight as a contender for championship honors in the Orange county league following its overwhelming victory over the Irvine Ranch quintette at the Broadway academy here last night. The winners took all four points and moved into third place, a notch below the Nickey Hardware company and the Orange County Title company.

The Costa Mesa squad tallied 2410 pins as against 1013 for the Beanpickers. Woods, lead-off roller for the victors, had a card of 211-208-173 for an evening's average of 197.

De Mar first broke into the limelight in 1911 when he won the Boston marathon in record time for the local event. The following year he went to Stockholm with the Olympic team but finished far back with the also rans. Discouraged he gave up running and remained out of athletics until he found himself in the army during the war.

De Mar is slightly built, almost frail, and is a printer by trade. Also he is the troop master of the largest squad of Boy Scouts in Melrose, Mass., and the teacher of the largest Sunday school class in the same neighboring Boston village.

It is hardly necessary to add that the young citizenry of the community are more than mildly interested in the outcome of the Olympic marathon.

KITTY M'KANE WINNER OVER HELEN WILLS

Jean Borotra Defeats Own Countryman In Finals of Men's Tourney

BY LLOYD ALLEN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WIMBLEDON, England, July 5.—Helen Wills and Mrs. George Wightman, United States finalists in the Wimbledon tennis tourney, won the world's women's doubles tennis championship today by defeating Kathleen McKane and Mrs. C. B. Covell of England, two games out of three.

Jean Borotra of France defeated his countryman, Rene Lacoste, in the men's singles, signifying the championship of the world. The match went the full five sets.

The American woman's team took the first set, 6-4. Mrs. Wightman's play was noteworthy for brilliant lobbying and smashing drives. Miss Wills, however, was somewhat weak at the net and her ground work was not of the best. Miss Wills served the first game.

In the second game Mrs. Covell double faulted five times and continued to err in that respect several times during later games.

The American team took the second by the same score 6-4.

Mrs. Wightman's strategy stood out throughout the play, while Miss Wills consistently outplayed her opponent at the net. Miss McKane was erratic and Mrs. Covell weak throughout the play.

In the men's singles Borotra won the first set 6-1. Lacoste won the second set 6-3. Borotra won the third 6-1. Lacoste won the fourth set 6-3, and Borotra the fifth and the championship 6-4.

Vincent Richards and Francis T. Hunter won the first set in the men's doubles, an all-American affair, from R. Norris Williams and Watson M. Washburn 6-3.

To win the championship, Miss McKane had to make an uphill fight for after winning the first set, Miss Wills was leading four games to one, Miss McKane then threw caution to the wind and began a rushing, aggressive net attack which gained for her five games in succession and the championship after a third, desperately fought set.

Williams and Washburn won the second set, 6-3.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Sallie Peck, employee of the Fair Deal Five & Ten, quarrels with her policeman sweetheart, Michael Curran. He calls on her at Ma Brennan's, with whom she lives, but leaves the house when Sallie tells him that she never wants to see him again.

That night a terrific rain storm comes up and Sallie volunteers to bring from the line in the backyard some hand-embroidered linen being done up by Ma Brennan. As the girl starts down the yard, a crash shakes the earth and something strikes her a blow on the head.

When Sallie regains consciousness she finds herself in strange surroundings. She is in a wonderful bed in a richly furnished room. A French maid calls her Mademoiselle Alva and tells her that Mademoiselle Alva's mother, will be in shortly to see her. Sallie is mystified.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Ma Brennan! The Fair Deal! Mike! Sallie sat bolt upright in bed stifling a scream. What in the world had happened to her? A host of recollections flashed across her mind but soft footsteps were approaching outside the door and she slipped back upon the pillow and closed her eyes.

She heard a slight tinkle as a tray was set down upon the stand, then there came the soft rustle of the window draperies and a brighter light shot across her lids and after that the footsteps approached her bed again.

Sallie could feel the hot flush which had mounted in her cheeks but she forced herself to open her eyes once more and meet the gaze of those inscrutable ones.

"The chocolate, Mees Alva." The maid helped her sit up and rearranged her pillows. "Madame will be here in a moment; she is enchanted that you have recovered consciousness so soon."

"So I've been sick, have I?" Sallie sipped her chocolate and eyed her companion over the rim of the cup.

"But yes, mademoiselle! You do not recall? It was the shock to the head." The woman was smoothing the lace coverlet on the bed. "Do you feel nothing, Miss Alva?"

"I've got a fierce pain here." Sallie raised one hand to her head and the cup would have dropped from the other had the maid not taken it from her. She had encountered bandages — bandages which fitted down like a cap — most to her ears. Surprise overruled caution and she demanded: "What—what is it? How long—?"

"Three days, mademoiselle, since we have returned to New York from the hospital in that place. But you must not talk now. You will have no more chocolate?"

Sallie shook her head dumbly and there was no simulation in the limpidness of her eyes for the second time she sank back on the pillow.

The woman bathed her face and hands, brushed back the soft, golden hair about her forehead and then removed the tray, pausing for a moment in the doorway, but Sallie made no effort to detain her. She wanted to be alone, to think.

There had been a quarrel with Mike and the long, sleepless night with the hateful face of Mame Dorsey floating before her; then the dismal, rainy dawn and Ma Brennan's worry about the linen. She had gone out herself to the back yard to bring it in off the lines just as the fast express came thundering along on the tracks lying beyond the rickety fence and then there had been a terrible crash—!

Slowly, painfully the girl's mind pieced together her last conscious impressions and now complete realization rushed upon her. The switch there at the junction only the length of two houses away, where the milk train was overdue and Hughie Robbins' pa drinking again! There had been a wreck and most of it had piled on her there in the back yard between the lines of wet clothes! She must have been mistaken for somebody else, but why had Ma Brennan let them take her away?

"My darling child!" There was a rustle of silk, a wave of the same perfume which had greeted her waking senses and two arms clasped her in a tense embrace. "Alva, do you know me? Therese told me that you had come to yourself at last! Alva, speak to your mother!"

Sallie's lids lifted slowly and she beheld a large figure in lavender draperies and a handsome face with steely gray eyes close to her own. "Mother," indeed! There was something in this that she didn't understand but if they were playing some game—? Sallie grinned faintly.

"I—I got hurt?"

"Oh, my dear, there was a terrible wreck! But do you recall nothing of it?" The visitor seated herself on a low chair by the bed and took one of the girl's hands in both of hers. "We were on the train returning from French Lick Springs, asleep in our drawing room at the end of the car when the crash came! I shall spare you the horror of it for I, too, was buried in the debris, but oh, Alva! My thankfulness when I came to myself in the hospital and found you there beside me, even when the doctors told me—"

She paused shuddering and Sallie watching her closely saw that her face had whitened beneath its coating of cosmetics while a haggard line appeared about the narrow, firm lips. There wasn't any acting in this! Sallie started to speak and then checked herself suddenly; that maid had seemed to recognize her, also.

"Wasn't she?" The girl's quick brain caught at the name which the older woman had used and in unconscious mimicry she imitated the accent. "Wasn't—there—there, too?"

"Yes, dear child. I see you are beginning to remember! She was a dear just beyond our door and thrown clear of the wreck, being merely bruised. But you have not asked about anyone else."

There is a half-playful chiding note in her tones which seemed forced, somehow, and Sallie gave a little start. She'd better watch her step now.

"Who else was with us?" she asked carefully.

was in the car ahead and fearfully shaken up but he rescued you, Alva! He saved your life!" She gestured toward the dressing table and for the first time Sallie noticed that there stood upon it the photograph of a man. It was encased in a large, jeweled frame and the features were not very distinct in the subdued light, but he appeared to be youngish, with a long nose and something unpleasant about his eyes. Her own came back to the face bending above her and she saw that she was being studied in turn with a curious intensity.

"He—saved my life?" repeated Sallie and a mental picture rose before her of what she must have looked like in that sleazy kimono, all tangled up in Ma Brennan's wash. The little smile which quirked the corners of her mouth faded quickly, however, at the suddenly commanding tones of the older woman's voice.

"Yes. You really must thank him as he deserves as soon as you are able to see him! I don't know what I should have done without him! It was he who arranged to have a special sent to meet us at the next station and a motor ambulance to take us to that wretched hospital within an hour after I had regained consciousness. He would not believe for a moment what the doctors told us, and he has been so devoted."

"Has he?" Sallie's own tone was noncommittal. "What did the doctors say?"

"You suffered a very severe concussion, Alva, and it was feared that when you did recover consciousness you might not be quite yourself for a time." The words fell slowly from the older woman's lips. "The specialist whom Doctor Quarters called in was of the opinion that your memory might be impaired and you would not be able at first to recognize any of us! Dear child, if you were my own instead of a stepdaughter my fears could not have been greater."

So that was what these two were trying to put over! Sallie raised her hand to her swimming head.

"Maybe that doctor had the right dope!" she murmured. "I don't seem to remember any of this line you've been giving me."

"Of course not, Alva, you have only just waked up, you know." The woman rose. "I will send Miss Tidmarsh to you now, for you must rest."

She bent, kissed the girl's forehead and turning, left the room. Clenching her fists and catching her lower lip sharply between her teeth she waited until the momentary weakness passed and her vision cleared, then rising she tottered over to the dressing table to have a closer look at Cousin Wheeler.

It was not reassuring. He was younger than she had thought, under thirty maybe, but his forehead sloped straight back to his thin, slick hair, the close-set eyes did not meet one squarely and the long nose drooped over a sickly little mustache that gave him a sneer. What there was of his chin slid down into his collar, and although that was perfectly fitting and the pear-shaped dull pin—a pearl, she guessed—certainly looked the goods in his tie, Sallie shrugged as she replaced the photograph upon the dressing table.

She was turning away when her own reflection in the triple mirror met her gaze and she paused with a little catch in her breath. She had never seen quite so much of herself from all sides at once and that elegant lacy gown didn't help to hide her scrawiness, but that wasn't what mattered; it was the drawn, ghostly face more pointed than ever and the big rings around her dull, sunken eyes. Why, even Ma Brennan would hardly know her!

Moving slowly over to the window she drew the blue side drape across her breast and then parted the filmy curtains to peer outward and down. Sunlight striking on the glass of a passing motor winked sharply up into her eyes but when it passed she saw a broad avenue not so far below her with a double stream of wonderful cars and big green buses rolling along though only a subdued rumble reached her ears. On the opposite side was a smooth, tree-lined walk with carved stone benches in a row and a low wall behind them while beyond that again there stretched with a soft-looking dirt road and little winding paths between masses of trees just getting feathery with buds.

LAGUNA BEACH ALL-YEAR PLAN IS URGED AT CO. BEACHES

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5.—The crowds that surged into Laguna Beach on Thursday and Friday were larger than at any time in the history of the beach. All day Thursday the telephone exchange was busy and worked far into the night trying to locate accommodations for visitors. The Laguna Beach Villa was booked to capacity two weeks ago. Last Sunday all reservations were filled at Arch Beach Tavern and the Laguna Beach Hotel. The Murphy building and the Hazel Cafe building were filled to capacity yearly on Thursday. Laguna Beach Tent City and the Tent City Camp Grounds were rapidly filled during a very short time last night. "The Breakers" was filled to capacity and apartment houses in McKnight Addition, Laguna Cliffs, Laguna Heights and Arch Beach were booked several days ago.

A great number of private houses have been thrown open to accommodate the public and it is believed that more people are housed at Laguna Beach right now than ever in the history of the beach.

Also Beach Camp grounds, Fairwood Camp grounds, Crescent Bay, Golf Island and Tent City were scenes of activity all through the night.

Laguna Canyon was lit up by a steady stream of incoming automobiles the entire night. Unable to find sleeping quarters, a great many slept on the beach, while others, exhausted from long tireless drives just went to sleep at the wheel, wherever they happened to stop.

In spite of inconveniences suffered by those unable to secure accommodations, they were cheerful and a general spirit of festivity pervaded the town.

Laguna Beach Community Club Auto Park was filled to capacity early on Friday morning and it is expected that a great deal of money will be taken in by them during the holidays.

BALBOA, July 5.—A campaign to bring both winter and summer tourists to Balboa has been launched by the Balboa Chamber of Commerce through its secretary, George Neill. The plan, which was originated by Mr. Neill, is not a costly one yet will reach the most desirable prospects and these in large numbers, Neill says.

Neill has begun the task of writing personal letters to the secretaries of the various luncheon clubs, Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Exchange, 100 Per Cent and the lodges like the Masons, Elks, Knights of Columbus and Odd Fellows. Neill requests that the secretaries read them at the first meeting after their receipt. The letters are invitations to the members of these various clubs and lodges to pay a visit to Balboa. The letter continues with an outline of the many advantages of spending a summer or winter at the beach.

According to Neill, these letters will be sent to the secretaries in all the hot belt cities and towns this summer and in the winter similar letters will be sent to the cold belt towns and cities.

Neill is endeavoring to find a member of the Kiwanis club to sign the letters to the Kiwanis secretaries and a Mason to sign the letters to the Masonic lodges, and follow the plan out with all organizations. In this manner he believes he will get better action than if the letters were signed by him as Secretary of the Balboa Chamber of Commerce.

ART GALLERY CURATOR

MRS. HARRIET LEE —Photo by Lyndon's.

Mrs. Harriet Lee, wife of Mr. C. G. Lee of Santa Ana, is now the curator of the Laguna Beach Art association gallery. Mrs. Lee formerly lived in New York and studied at the Smith's school of Art in Chicago. Mrs. Lee has done some beautiful work and specialized early in figure painting.

Mrs. Lee does not at this time pursue her art studies as the time, aside from that given to the Art association, is spent in mothering a splendid son.

Mrs. Lee stated that she enjoyed the work of curator immensely. There are so many new people to see and talk to, always getting new views of things and taking part in interesting discussions on artists and their work and hobbies.

"Laguna Beach artists are well worth knowing," said Mr. Lee. "They are charming and courteous and their work is marked by the gentle spirit of Laguna Beach and shows strength and character. Much has been said about the individual style of each artist. I cannot make further comments upon the opinion so freely expressed by some of the greatest art critics in the country, but I do know that the pictures that are now exhibited at the Art gallery call for encouraging and pleasing comments from the visiting public."

"The people who visit the Art gallery come from every state in the Union, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, South America and the European countries. Some of the names appearing on the Art gallery register are world famous."

"There are the names of people famous in art, music, social life and commerce, but here they all meet on common ground, to admire and discuss the merits of paintings hung at our gallery and painted by local artists."

"When I asked this man to change his license plate from behind the rear bumper he got out of his car and advanced toward me in a hard-boiled attitude. I grabbed him by the neck and marched him back to the car," said the officer.

When Adams appeared for hearing several days after his arrest he pleaded not guilty, demanding a jury trial, which was set for today. The case was to be prosecuted by Dep. Dist. Atty. David G. Wetlin.

L. A. ATTORNEY IS SUMMONED BY JUSTICE

ORANGE, July 4.—Mollie R. Adams, Los Angeles attorney, late from the East, who is charged with a violation of the State Motor Vehicle Act, kept a jury waiting for an hour yesterday and now faces arrest on a bench warrant.

"Laguna Beach artists are well worth knowing," said Mr. Lee. "They are charming and courteous and their work is marked by the gentle spirit of Laguna Beach and shows strength and character. ## MANY SPEEDERS DRAW FINES AT BEACH

SEAL BEACH, July 5.—Speeders in and through Seal Beach have been dropping in to call on Judge Morrison and incidentally pay a fine or two. Those paying fines the last week in June are: V. Phillips, Long Beach, $25; S. H. Davidson, Los Angeles, $15; E. Dillon, Los Angeles, $25; H. Butts, Whittier, $40; A. G. Thompson, Fullerton, $25; R. W. Moon, Los Angeles, $25; E. Riper, Los Angeles, $10; R. H. Myers, Long Beach, $25; W. M. Aldrich, $22; Frank D. Heacock, Bell, $22; Father P. Brown, Anaheim, $10; H. Newick, San Pedro, $15.

Madam Stozanow, her son Victor Stozanow and Miss Eastman of Tucson, Arizona, are visitors at Laguna Beach. Mrs. Stozanow is Professor of Biology at the University of Arizona. The Stozanows have leased the Hills Cottage for the summer.

Mrs. Grace R. Wilnot entertained a number of women at lunch at The Tea and Tiffin on Sunday. The out of town guests being Mrs. Anne R. Morey of Hastings, Nebraska and Mrs. S. A. Brinkhoff of Pasadena.

Guy E. Skidmore left Tuesday noon for Los Angeles where he will attend to business for The Simon and Skidmore Manufacturing Company of Santa Ana.

Andrew S. Hall, of the real estate firm of Cravath and Hall, motored to Orange, where he closed a deal for some Laguna Beach property.

Miss Ann B. Mason and Mrs. Lydia Tilton of Laguna Beach entertained members of the Meeting Lodge of Whittier, Kansas, at Dana Point with a lovely picnic dinner at Laguna Beach.

After the sumptuous repast the guests explored the cliffs and rocks of historic Dana Point and a very delightful time was had by all.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. Richard and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lindley, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lindley and son, Mr. C. W. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Irv Landis, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hall, Miss Marjorie Ellis, Miss Mary Stout, from Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dobbs and son of Los Angeles, James Dobbs of Costa Mesa, California.

Frank Hanson has taken down the office of Mr. E. E. Johnson. But he has no intention of selling either real estate or hot dogs, he preferring the manufacture and sale of jokes, this being a line of human endeavor in which there is less competition. Real estate and hot dog merchants are numerous, but joke merchants are few and far between. We have three joke merchants in the city, but we can only count on one, one post office and one joke factory.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Henshaw and son Robert returned Monday from a motor trip to Escondido. They are motoring to their home in Laguna Beach and spend a large part of the summer at their home on Laguna Cliffs.

As usual on Monday night the members of the Laguna Beach Community Club met at the Club House for their usual evening of cards, refreshments and social chatter, but last Monday evening was to be a great deal different from the other Monday evenings.

The host and hostess, Herbert A. Riker and Miss Mary Riker, served refreshments after the card game, and the decorations on the table were very patriotic, red, white and blue. Refreshments were delightfully carried out in the same color scheme, strawberries, white bread, cream topped by delicate licious cup cake covered with blue frosting.

Lieutenant Colonel George S. McCue was introduced by Mr. Riker as the speaker of the evening. Mr. McCue made a very impressive speech in honor of America, what it is and what it should mean to every loyal citizen, and then announced that Herbert Riker, as a gift to the Laguna Beach Community Club, had given to the club a flag. The attention was then turned to the curtains on the stage, which were slowly parted displaying the flag.

The Laguna Beach Villa was a house of festivity Monday evening when A. B. Derkum and Claude Rice, proprietors of the Rainbow Ballroom gave a banquet for a number of friends who had helped to make the "Rainbow" a success.

During the meal many of the guests gave little talks, witty, wise and otherwise.

A very delicious six course dinner was served in a style peculiar to Villa cuisine. After the dinner and speeches, Isom's Orchestra entertained with peppy music and singing in which all guests took part.

Those present at the banquet were Mr. Gus Derkum, Miss Agnes Derkum, Mrs. Laura Derkum, Mrs. Josephine Rice, Miss Charlotte Brown, Mr. Clarence Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Watkins, Mr. Joe Kuban, Ted Kuban, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Isom, Miss Angelica Kuban, Mr. Ted Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whiteman, Mr. Joseph W. Skidmore and Mr. E. Stigal.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ebel have as their guest Mrs. J. Hardy of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rust, and family Miss Margaret Rust, and Reginald Rust, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Weiss are spending some time visiting and camping near San Luis Obispo.

Mrs. Rowena Holbrook, is spending several days camping at Hodges Dam. She will return home Monday.
